MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.
When the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.
Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

PROJECTED BUILDINGS.

THE LAWS AFFECTING BUILDING.

There has not been any book on the market containing all the laws and regulations relating to building in New York City; yet the need of such a volume is plain enough, because a building from its foundation to its final demolition is subject not only to the building law, but to special regulations of the building department concerning passenger elevators, fire-escapes, light and ventilation and plumbing. There is also a law limiting the height of dwelling houses and another requiring temporary flooring. There are the tenement house and lodging house laws, laws relating to the extinction and prevention of fires and explosives, and the storing of combustible materials in buildings. Moreover, there are very important fire department regulations which must be observed in the installation of electrical apparatus, and there are, of course, all the regulations of the department of public works concerning Croton water rates and the use of water, the opening and refilling of trenches and restoring of street pavements; in addition to ordinances pertaining to the inspection of steam boilers. The architect, builder, building material man and real estate owner must be familiar with these laws and regulations; if he is not, he suffers. They are now all gathered together (with a directory of architects for the first time in one volume, illustrated, indexed and supplied for $2.50. Record and Guide, Publishers, 14 and 16 Vesey street.

The first name is that of the owner; ar't stands for architect; m'n for mason; c'r for carpenter, and b'r for builder.
When character of roof is not mentioned, it is to be understood that the roof is to be of tin.

Questions and Answers

INTERNAL REVENUE LAW.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

What Internal Revenue stamp is required on contract for labor, or labor including material?

Answer.—None.—Law Editor.

ENCROACHMENT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Mrs. L B [illegible] a house and lot on Central avenue from L M, who gave her a warrantee deed, and took back a mortgage for part of the purchase money. After taking title she learned that her house encroaches three inches upon the adjoining lot, on which a pretty old shanty is standing. In a very short time she expects the owner of adjoining lot to compel her to remove encroachment or to sue her for damages. She owes a balance of three hundred dollars on the purchase money mortgage. Can she refuse to pay such balance, or what will be her remedy against L M?

Answer.—She cannot refuse to pay the balance due on the mortgage. If the adjoining owner sues her and recovers, she can sue L M on the covenants in her deed.—Law Editor.

INHERITANCE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

(1) A man dies without a will, leaving no children; does his wife inherit all of his real estate? (2) Also, a man dies without a will, leaving a wife and several children; how much of his real estate does she inherit? (3) Suppose a man dies, leaving a will made before he married his second wife, having two children by the first, and no children by the second; how much of the real estate, and of the personal property does the second wife who survives him inherit?

Answer.—(1) No. She only has her dower right, which is the right to one-third of the net rents and profits so long as she lives. (2) She inherits nothing. The children inherit the property, subject to the dower right of the widow. (3) She has her dower right in the real estate. She gets one-third of the personalty absolutely.—Law Editor.

CITY ACQUIRES LAND—LANDLORD AND TENANT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A, owner, has house and lot leased to tenant, B. City acquires title to lot on account of street opening, and has not yet paid A for same. B, tenant, refuses to pay rent or vacate premises, claiming A no longer owns same. (1) Has A any right to still collect rent? (2) Can he have B evicted?

Answer.—(1) No. (2) No. Under Section 1001 of the charter A can take proceedings against the city to compel the payment of the sum awarded to him for his property.—Law Editor.

DESCRIPTION IN DEED.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

What does the law say where a piece of property is sold; we say, more or less; or as, will say, A sells to B a piece of property on Hudson street, No. so and so, 20 feet by 100, more or less; to what extent is this used? Does it mean to give 12 inches or 6, or what is the law's interpretation?

Answer.—By such a description the grantor conveys the property which he owns, known as such a number on Hudson street, no matter what the dimensions are.—Law Editor.

LANDLORD AND TENANT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I wish a tenant to vacate his rooms by the first; would it be sufficient to notify him myself five days before the first, verbally, or would I have to get a dispossess warrant for him?

Answer.—Give five days' notice in writing, and if the tenant does not vacate the premises at the expiration of the five days, then institute summary proceedings.—Law Editor.

MORTGAGE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A party makes a mortgage on his property in 1876, to become due in 1881. Since the mortgage was made in 1876 no interest has ever been paid on same nor any part of the principal. Neither one has been demanded. (1) Has this mortgage become null and void or forfeited itself by twenty years' statute of limitation? (2) Does the twenty years start from the date of mortgage, 1876, or from date of expiration, 1881? (3) Has it satisfied itself of record, or must an order be got or action taken to declare it satisfied? (4) What action is necessary, if any?

Answer.—The mortgage has not become void or outlawed. The twenty years' limitation is from the date when the mortgage becomes due. After the expiration of twenty years, that is in 1901, upon petition an order may be obtained from the Supreme Court for the cancellation of the mortgage. A mortgage does not satisfy itself of record.—Law Editor.

ENCROACHMENT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I would be pleased to have your opinion as to what course to pursue, etc., in a case such as follows: I own a lot, 25x100, in this city, on which I am about to build. In the rear, the fence wall (brick), of a public school is found by survey, to be, on the level, over 6 in., and at the base of foundation, over 12 in., on my lot.

Answer.—Notify the Corporation Counsel or the Board of Education, and I have no doubt the wall will be removed. If, however, it is not removed, you can sue the city to compel its removal.—Law Editor.

THE STUDY OF REAL ESTATE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Would you please be so kind as to let me know through the Record and Guide how much those four books cost to study real estate? F. M. W.

("The Guide to Buyers and Sellers of Real Estate," $1.00; "Bearing of the Greater New York Charter upon Real Estate," $1.50; "Laws Relating to Building in New York City," $2.50; "A History of Architecture, Building and Real Estate," $5.00. Published by the Record and Guide, 14 and 16 Vesey street.)

LANDLORD WISHES TO REVOKE LEASE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A landlord gives a tenant a lease for one year for a certain piece of property, to be used for farming purposes. Payment of rent for said property to be made about four months after the leasing of the property, which date has been agreed upon. Now the landlord wants to recall the lease, stating that he can sell the property to advantage, and says that the tenant, not having paid the rent beforehand, he cannot hold the lease, not having commenced to till the ground as yet. (1) Now can the tenant hold the landlord to the lease, and if he insists on having the property, (2) can the tenant compel him to pay for his loss incurred by not having use of the property for the year, as stated? (3) Is it necessary to file said lease?

Answer.—(1) Yes. (2) Without the consent of the tenant he cannot have the property. (3) No.—Law Editor.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's Office to be recorded.
Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Vol. LXIII. APRIL 15, 1899. No. 1,622.

THE rapid recovery in Transits and Industrials that has marked this week's stock market is due to a speculative reactive movement based on an unexpected ease in money. Whether it can be continued or maintained for long is doubtful. If further advances are possible the Transits have the best show for making them, but neither they or the Industrials will receive support from any but speculative buyers. The prices to which they have already been put, fully discounts all their future that can be seen and if there is any good in them to which the attention of the public has not been called, which is very unlikely, that also. Easy money rates encourage speculation and for the moment speculation favors those issues which have the most sensational movements, but the moment there is any sign of a pinch it is these very issues that are likely to suffer most and quickest. They are marked for banning as soon as danger is apprehended. Good railroad issues may not promise so large, or so rapid a return, but they will be less likely to interfere with sleep in times of uncertainty regarding the conditions that are to prevail in the money market. It is a little early yet to say what the spring demands for agricultural and commercial purposes will be, but while there will be moments of disturbance in the call money section at any rate, we do not look for a stringent money market in view of the large amounts of funds that must be still available, It cannot be that the expansion of business experienced so far, whether in the speculative, or more legitimate fields of enterprise, has already used up the immense capital resources with which we started the year. When the needs of trade and commerce are supplied there should be still ample for other purposes, but we are entering upon the period of disturbance and cannot look for even rates, even if there is no likelihood for very high ones, except on what may be called emergency loans, such as put up rates last week. The announcement that the Treasury Department will make systematic withdrawals of funds from the market for some weeks to come, must, of course, have its influence on rates, although these withdrawals are to be made in the way least likely to do harm. There is a tendency to make the most of the unfavorable crop reports recently issued by the government, and this tendency will affect the grangers more particularly if it is effective at all. Regarding the crop conditions themselves, it should be noticed that the increased acreage under cultivation ought to more than offset the decline in percentage of average condition, and that a backward spring though it has a tendency that way does not necessarily imply a small crop. Still, whatever may be the favorable points of the situation, the fact that the market has proved susceptible to bear attacks proves that the bull feeling is no longer sustained by entire confidence and that reactive movements are more to be expected than advances.

SO well sustained is the demand for money in the European market that financial circles are discussing the probability for advances in the bank rates, the point of extremest tension being again Berlin. A matter to which no little attention is due is the budget just presented in the British House of Commons. Mr. Goschen was able to report a small surplus for the fiscal year just closed, though early in the present calendar year the chances pointed to a deficiency. But, instead of being able to meet extra naval allowances out of surpluses, Mr. Goschen is compelled to resort to taxation to procure the additional ships claimed to be needed to maintain the traditional margin of superiority of the British fleet over that of the two largest European naval powers. That the people will care to have these expenditures continued along with the slackening of commercial activity which the decline in the government's receipts shows is extremely doubtful. The withdrawal of governmental ship building would in turn increase the falling off in business. Such a contingency is among the high probabilities; in fact it is a national expectation that the withdrawal of extra naval expenditures, which expenditures started the boom in British business in '94, should be the sign that the extreme point of activity had been reached, and that a reaction was in order. The Australian loans were not as successful as was hoped, which is another indication of changing conditions. Australian federation, however, seems to be getting along in good shape, already in anticipation of its being accomplished proposals for a uniform tariff, which promises to be protective, are being formulated. The conclusion of the African agreement between France and England may be immediately followed by negotiations on the Madagascar duties, a matter in which the United States is directly interested, because trade with this country has been as much injured by the French regulations in Madagascar as has that of Great Britain. Just at the moment both the United States and Great Britain are more likely to be occupied with Germany in the settlement of the Samoan difficulty. In this connection it may not be useless to utter a caution against the too literal acceptance of the harsh things said by the German press whether applied to Great Britain or ourselves. The candor of Bismarck in his memoirs and of his Boswell, Dr. Busch, have shown us the crude work required from the German press in the discharge of its duty toward the state—a sort of argumentation that had currency in our backwoods fifty years ago, and which had to be profusely diluted before being taken.

THE AUCTION MARKET.

IT is clear to everyone who frequents the auction room that the business there has in the past sixty days undergone a very vigorous revival. Instead of the lounging apathetic crowd who occupied the room all last year, except upon the comparatively few special occasions when some unusually attractive property was offered, and property that was rather attractive from the speculative than the investment point of view, there is now to be seen at noon of each business day a bustling, active, eager throng, among whom are many new faces. The last statement explains the change that has come over the room and the increased volume of transactions completed under the sign of the hammer. Without new blood, the possibilities of an active auction market three months ago were very remote. As a matter of fact the purchases of the old stagers this spring have been comparatively small. Accustomed to great fluctuations in values as a result of wild speculation and weak financial conditions, he has been waiting for the bargains of ten and twenty years ago, oblivious of the changes that have been produced by local conditions, which, together with the great increase in the wealth of the community and concurrent reduction in interest rates, have established values for New York realty on a new and permanently higher plane, so that old-time prices will never return. A significant feature of the auction market has been the competitive local buying, or buying by residents or business men in the immediate vicinity of the property offered. This buying is the most satisfactory that can be obtained, inasmuch as it is based on a thorough knowledge of the conditions surrounding the parcels bought, and is often for use and as often for investment. The buyers in these cases can, naturally, always outbid the professional operator. First let us draw attention to the foreclosure sales, which are summarized in the following table:

In this table will be found our usual summary of the foreclosure business of the first three months of the year, compared with that of the same quarter of last year, compiled from the figures given in issues of the Record and Guide published within those respective periods. It will be seen from this table that while the amount of property forced to sale was very much larger in the quarter of this year the withdrawals were proportionately larger, as were also the number of parcels taken by outsiders, or rather by parties other than the plaintiffs in the suits under which the parcels were sold. These two facts, together point to a much more satisfactory condition of affairs than prevailed last year. So many circumstances combine to bring property to forced sale, including the system under which so much of the speculative building is done, that it is not always safe to base opinions of the condition of the market wholly on this class of the auction business; but there are features in our table that support the favorable view of the outlook that ought not to be ignored. One of these features is the results obtained with flats and tenements, a class of property particularly affected by the customs of trade to which we have just hinted, which come out very well in the quarter's return. With 74 out of 139 taken over the heads of plaintiffs as compared with 42 out of 92, a decidedly good result is presented in the class of property least likely to afford favorable deduction. If we may not too confidently believe that a great improvement has been made in the auction market from the records of the foreclosure department, those of the voluntary offerings supply whatever the former lack for this purpose. We have prepared a table for this department, as complete as the figures available would permit, to correspond with our foreclosure sales table, and present it here:

Voluntary Sales—First Quarter, 1899 to 1898 Compared.

Flats and tenements.	Total No. offered.	Sold. No.	Sold. Realized.	Bid in. No.	Bid in. Amount.	Withdrawn or adj'r'n'd No.

Dwellings.
1898.....	36	33	396,475	..	.....	3
1899.....	96	52	1,022,275	16	342,000	28
Lots and plots.
1898.....	380	376	176,385	..	.....	4
1899.....	445	336	2,725,775	7	98,400	97
Business.
1898.....	24	21	884,609	..	.....	3
1899.....	110	60	2,876,552	11	541,525	39
Total, all.
1898.....	517	490	2,908,713	..	.....	27
1899.....	838	574	9,374,731	64	1,950,225	195

It must be borne in mind that the table just given includes sales in partition, which form a considerable portion of the auctioneers' business, and which are often a means simply of distributing property among very limited sets of individuals. At the same time the property is there to be sold and any outsider who appreciates it more than an insider can have it by bidding for it. The small amount of property sold through the Sheriff is also included in this table. The feature, however, that must strike the attention of the reader is the large amount of property offered in the first quarter of this year compared with the figures for the quarter of last year. Indeed so much greater were they that they undoubtedly prove the existence of a healthy demand for real property. This applies to the classes in detail as well as to the total; because we see that the sales of flats were, in money value, nearly double and those of dwellings more than five times what they were last year. In vacant land against an insignificant total for the quarter of last year, we have $2,725,775, and a total realized for business parcels equaling about three and a half times the similar total for 1898. The final result is over $9,000,000 worth of business done in the three months, or more than three times what was done in the same time last year. The fear, and its final realization, of war with Spain practically killed the auction business of last spring, but the early months of the year were not those that suffered most, April, May and June bearing the worst consequences of the war's influence on business, so that the bad business of the first quarter of last year was only partially caused by the war, and the latter does not to any large degree explain the great difference in the business done in the two periods compared.

AN attempt is about to be made in Albany to take away from New York City the task of making its own building code. New life has been infused into a dormant measure that was introduced into the assembly by Mr. Adler early in the session, which, if passed now, will produce this result. Of course, as in all legislative projects there is much "politics" in this effort, and the true motive is to be cloaked in the guise of "reform." We don't wish, however, to go into the matter of motives. It is not on that score that we object to the bill. We know that if we demanded purity of intent before enacting legislation there would be mighty few laws on the statute books. Mr. Adler's proposition ought to be defeated, because it is poor business. Moreover, it is impertinent. In a sense, it is unfair and it certainly would make a deal of bother for our people. The charter provided that New York should formulate its own building code. That is certainly what ought to be. But here Mr. Adler bobs up and in substance says that the code can be made either very much better or very much more honestly, or both in Albany and under the direction of Albany politicians than in New York. This is cheeky to say the least. Every other city in the State except New York makes its own building regulations. Why is not New York competent to do for itself what Buffalo, Syracuse and Rochester do for themselves? Why must New York citizens—particularly our architects, builders, building material men, real estate owners—be put to special expenses and trouble to look after their interests up the river a couple of hundred miles from home? Hitherto, when the Legislature has been busy with our building laws our business men have been put to the expense and loss of time of dancing attendance on committees, and on legislators in order to protect their interests and prevent burdensome or iniquitous legislation. We are not saying that we should get an immaculate or perfect building code in New York any more than in Albany. We don't do things so much better here than elsewhere. But in New York the people most interested in a building code are on the spot. They can easily watch over their interests. They can protect and make themselves heard without difficulty. They can, if they will, combine and exert an influence quite beyond anything possible at the capitol. There is every reason, therefore, why New York should be allowed to attend to this affair itself. To send us all back to Albany and center a purely domestic matter in that labyrinth of legislative iniquity is an unfortunate and retrograde step.

THE photographs that some of the illustrated "weeklies" are publishing, showing the Philippine trenches and their dead, after battle were, no doubt, intended to be merely sensational and furnish to the popular eye an indubitable proof of American military skill. The testimony of the camera does all that—and more. It spells out for our stay-at-home people the real meaning of our war, and shows to them in black and white what their country is doing in distant parts in the name of humanity and freedom. We will not be surprised if these pictures touch the American conscience as no sermoning or newspaper-writing possibly can. Looking at these photographs, the "plain man" may be brought out of the atmosphere of buncombe, big words and hollow ideas which envelopes our bloody actions in the Philippines, so that he may see that "expansion" and "destiny" created by shooting down a people whose only crime, so far as we are concerned, is that they desire independence is unworthy of American traditions. This Philippine business travesties all our historical past. It gives the lie to the ideas upon which our government was founded. It desecrates every grave of every patriot who fought for the independence of this country, and for the freedom of every man on its soil. It gives a comic aspect to our hundred years of national endeavor. If the Stars and Stripes be hoisted over the Philippines by virtue of conquest only, the flag will represent for once Americanism upside down.

WHILE the agitation against granting a franchise in perpetuity to a private corporation for the building of an underground road is easily understood and may to some extent excite general sympathy, this city's position in the matter of rapid transit should not be overlooked. Rapid transit is a crying necessity, but the city has no money with which to supply it, and has an administration, with three years unexpired of office, opposed to municipal construction, if it had the money. A syndicate or an interest whatever it may be called of unquestioned ability to construct, offers to build the road under certain conditions, one of which is a perpetual franchise. Doubtless this syndicate or interest is taking advantage of the circumstances to make the best terms for itself, as is the wont of business organizations. But, and this fact should especially be borne in mind, the terms are not so advantageous as to call up competition for the franchise, so that at the moment there seems nothing for the city to do but accept the only bid made or remove the prospect of a city railroad that can be operated with proper speed to insure efficient compliance with travelling needs, into a quite distant future. The Rapid Transit Commission have not asked that they be directed to let the building of the road under a perpetual franchise, but merely that they be empowered to secure the building of the road through private capital, the terms to be a matter of arrangement within certain limits. If this authority be granted to them, as it undoubtedly should be, they will probably accede to the terms of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company, failing the possibility of securing better in due course. It may be, before the matter is finally disposed of, that rival bidders will arise who will offer better terms for the franchises than those now before the public; if so, the Commission are by no means committed to refuse them. Under all the circumstances of the case it is fair to ask those who oppose the acceptance of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company's offer, what are you prepared to offer instead of it? Do you ask the city to simply refuse this offer and to drop back into the vacuum that has hitherto stood for rapid transit, or have you something else, practical and tangible to propose? Accepting your estimate of the value of this franchise, is it equal to the ten years of delay and consequent retardation of development, growth of tax valuation and commercial progress that appears to-day likely to follow a refusal of the one only offer ever made to build the underground railroad backed by the necessary ability and cash? If these questions can be answered satisfactorily the party that opposes rapid transit on the perpetual franchise basis, sadly neglected their case when presenting it at the recent Cooper Union meeting. Even now, however, if they can offer an equivalent for the practical thing they say shoud be refused, the city will doubtless be only too glad to accept what they offer, but in this matter do let us now drop crankiness and the varied forms of fancy by which rapid transit has hitherto been made impossible and get right down to business, while the times are good and money for the building is to be had.

IT is to be hoped that there will be no undue haste to commit this city to ownership of the gas plants. There is a good deal still to be said upon both sides of municipal ownership, before it is accepted as the best thing for the city. Elsewhere gas has been produced profitably and unprofitably under municipal control. In some of the British provincial towns acquisition of the gas plants by the community has been a good thing; in Philadelphia, only last year, the public gas plants were turned over to a private corporation, because the city could not supply gas as cheaply as the latter could do. We doubt whether gas can be supplied cheaper, or as cheap as it is done by one of the London companies that not only makes and sells gas in competition with other companies, but also shares profits with its employees. The profitable manufacture of gas in competition, like the manufacture of anything else that is made for the market, is a matter of fine calculation and the adjustment of all the elements of location, plant, material, management, labor and distribution in such a manner that they will produce the very best results possible. The management must be perfectly free in its selection of the other elements, and it is probably just here where the cause of failure, where it has happened, in municipal gas making may be found. Political, and sometimes sentimental reasons, doubtless, prevented that perfection of organization without which success was not to be had, and the consequence was dearer instead of cheaper gas and general dissatisfaction, not always unaccompanied by scandal. We are not saying that these dire results would follow the adoption of municipal ownership by this city, but allude to them in order to show that a thorough inquiry is necessary before a step in that direction is taken. In effect we ought to ask ourselves whether we are fitted to add a gas-making plant to our other departments of municipal government; of whether, if we do, we shall only be incurring loss and creating another subject for legislative periodic investigation. To our mind the investigation ought to come first, before the pecuniary responsibility is assumed.

IN adopting a map for widening White Plains road, to which reference is made in another column, the Board of Public Improvements has inaugurated the work of municipal development, of the addition of 1895, or that section east of the Bronx River of which the preliminary map, or street plan was adopted last summer. White Plains road is the main line of communication between the Bronx and Mt. Vernon. It runs along a ridge of high land and is, therefore, particularly suited for immediate improvement. There has already been a good deal of building along the line it demarks and traffic is constantly growing upon it. A trolley line has been built there, but the width of the roadway would only permit the laying of one track and, therefore, run-outs are necessary to facilitate up and down traffic, a system that is not conducive to speed of travel. The preliminary map, previously referred to, lays out a thoroughfare a hundred feet wide on the line of White Plains road; but, owing to the demands of the traffic thereon, it has been found advisable to adopt the final map of this road ahead of that of the section of the Bronx generally. A public hearing on this proposition will be given on May 17th next, when the details will be considered. For the present we content ourselves with drawing attention to the auspicious fact that the public authorities are moving practically to secure the opening up and improvement of this section.

OUR ALBANY LETTER.

Albany, April 13.—The Rapid Transit bill for New York was not touched by the Legislature in consequence of the absence of Senator Grady until to-day, when the attention of the Senate was taken up with the bill for a single-headed Police Commission in New York—which was defeated. Senator Stranahan states, however, that he will press the Rapid Transit bill on Tuesday next; and Governor Roosevelt stated to-day that the Legislature ought not to adjourn without passing a rapid transit measure for New York.

It looks now as though a new Building Code Commission bill for New York may be passed by the Legislature. Richard Watson Gilder, of the Tenement-House Commission, is pressing the passage of such a bill, and the Assembly Committee on Cities has reported favorably two bills to carry out this purpose, which were introduced by Assemblyman Adler, and previously described in these columns. At public hearings given some time ago it was the impression that the bills were dead, but the attack on the Department of Buildings before the Mazet Committee seems to have revivified them.

A good many New York bills have been advanced this week, but few of them have been passed. Two have passed—the following: Assemblyman Fallows' (Intro. No. 1185), prohibiting the setting up of iron work in building construction more than three tiers ahead of flooring or filling-in; and Senator Ford's (Intro. No. 1320), allowing the purchase and sale of real estate by building and loan associations for their own use or in protection of loans made by them.

The following bills were favorably reported in the Senate this week:

Senator Elsberg (Intro. No. 493), amending the act giving the limits of St. Nicholas Park in the 12th Ward.

Assemblyman Finn (Intro. No. 923), amending the law with reference to the stoop line so as to extend the use of the stoop line to other streets besides those now so benefited under the law.

Senator Mitchell (Intro. No. 558), placing the entire cost of making a public place bounded by Tremont avenue, Burnside avenue, Webster avenue and Ryer avenue, on the city.

The Assembly this week passed Assemblyman Egan's bill (printed No. 2073), providing that no naturalized citizen shall be employed in the construction of public works unless he produce his naturalization papers, or a certified copy of them, for the inspection of the board or officer in charge of the work.

Assemblyman Bulkley's (printed No. 2006), providing for a bureau of forestry under the jurisdiction of the Park Board in New York City, to supervise the planting and propagation of trees in the streets and parks.

BUILDING STONES.

The only source of comprehensive information regarding the production and consumption and other movements of building stone is the annual report of the United States Geological Survey, and that has the very great disadvantage of being published long after the close of the government year. For instance, the report for the year 1897-8, or for the year closing on June 30, 1898, is just to hand, and much of the information it contains is only useful as a matter of record. This remark applies to the section of the report given over to stone, prepared by William C. Day, which, though a very able document which cost a considerable amount of thought and labor, has diminished in practical or commercial value by reason of the changes that have transpired since the period with which it treats. At the same time it should be stated that the report does not pretend to anything but a record of the year, and its bulk explains, with the circumlocution that always attaches to governmental work, the delay in its publication. Such facts as have an interest to the stone trade have been extracted, and, with the foregoing explanation, are submitted to the reader.

The report shows a pretty general increase in the value of the stone products of the country for the year 1897-8. Returning prosperity has had the effect of increasing valuations at the same time with the output. This increase has not been the same in all the States. Those districts which were the last to feel the effects of the depression of preceding years, have been the slowest to profit by the general trade revival. The output of the different varieties of stone has in most cases equaled, and in a few, surpassed the highest figures on record, making it most probable that the reports of the current year will show for all lines of stone a greater production than ever before. The conditions in New York State were, on the whole, rather better in the period treated than in any other. New York holds first place in no one line of production, but has maintained a place among the first in all lines. In the production of granite, New York shows a phenomenal increase, from a valuation of $161,167 in 1896-7, to $422,216 in 1897-8. The corresponding value for the whole country was from $7,944,994 to $8,905,075; while in Massachusetts, which is the greatest producer, the increase is from $1,656,973 to $1,736,069. The increase in the production of granite would be much more were it not that various artificial stones are supplanting granite for paving block purposes, giving a most decided, and apparently permanent, set-back to that industry.

It has been possible to obtain some data from the quarrymen as to the purposes for which they sell their granite. For 1897-8 much of the stone, 26%, was sold in a rough condition, without any special squaring up or dressing. The other main divisions were, approximately: Building, 28%; monument and cemetery purposes, 16%; paving, 13%; road-making, 11%. The principal reason for the great increase in New York has been the great activity in road-making. Pennsylvania and New Jersey show increases for the same reason.

The reports on the output of marble for 1897-8 show some interesting facts. The total output has increased by almost a third, to the value of $3,870,584, which is the highest on record, the next highest output being $3,705,000 for 1892-3. Marble, being much used for purposes of luxury, has felt the past depression very keenly. In Vermont, which yields more than half the total output of the United States, this output was for 1897-8 almost twice that of 1896-7. The Vermont marble, being of the very finest quality, is principally used for mortuary purposes, so that it may be noticed that the return of good times causes people to be more lavish in this particular, as well as in others. In New York there was a decline in this product, from $484,160 in 1896-7, to $354,631 in 1897-8. This is accounted for in a great measure by the unusually large product from Tuckahoe in 1896-7. Georgia shows a like decline, but still holds second place.

The value of the slate produced has increased by more than 25% over the figures of 1896-7, to a value of $3,524,614. This increase is due to unusual activity in the production of roofing slate, which reached a number greater than 1,000,000 squares. The average price has reached the lowest point, namely, $3.09 per square. There is good reason to believe that the export trade, which was begun at the time of the strikes in the Wales slate quarries, will be retained, and owing to the vigorous manner in which the American article has been put upon the British and other foreign markets, and to the favor with which it is regarded, a further increase in exports may be looked for. More than half the total amount of slate put upon the market comes from Pennsylvania, while Vermont is next in order. The value of New York's product was not more than $53,799 in 1897-8, showing a marked falling off from earlier years, as in 1890-1, when the value was $210,000.

In the value of sandstone produced there has been an almost steady decline, from $10,816,057 in 1890-1, to $4,065,445 in 1897-8. The indications are better for 1898-9. Although the dark sandstone, known as the brownstone, is still highly esteemed, fashionable residences are for the most part using lighter stone. Michigan has some very good sandstone quarries which are being developed. In New York the figures are especially pleasing, showing an increase from $223,175 in 1896-7, to $544,514 in 1897-8. This increase is due in part to repairs and changes made in the Erie Canal. New Jersey has an output of $190,976—an increase over 1896-7. New York is next to Ohio, which produced $1,600,058 in 1897-8.

Limestone shows a gratifying increase in the total output, from $13,022,637 in 1896-7, to $14,822,661 in 1897-8. Although this is still a long way from the $19,095,179, which was the value of the output of 1890-1, the outlook is very encouraging. New York's output of $1,697,780 in 1897-8, is next to the output of 1890-1, which was $1,708,830. Other States show like favorable conditions; Indiana, particularly, with a production of $2,012,608. Pennsylvania shows the greatest production, $2,327,870, but is not so near the high water mark. Indiana seems to have the best building limestone in the Bedford Oolitic limestone. The principal part of the product of the other States is burnt for lime. In New York about two-thirds is used for building and road-making.

In considering all the figures for the outputs of various years it should be borne in mind that in a time of depression the value is affected before the output of the material, hence the output of material may remain the same, while the valuation will show a marked decrease. The decreased value of the material makes its production less profitable, and a further decrease in the value of the output is the result. On the whole, Mr. Day's paper makes it evident that building stones are responding with pleasing rapidity to the bettered condition of commercial affairs.

STRAW SURETIES ON LIEN BONDS.

The matter of the examination of the two "straw" sureties, Samuel W. Adams and Geo. P. Kinne, has been concluded before Justice Simms, in the City Magistrate's Court, First District. These are the two men who were offered on the bond to discharge the lien of Traitel Bros. & Co. against Emil Green, which bond was disapproved by Judge Beekman in the Supreme Court, on the exposure of its worthlessness by Phillips & Avery, the attorneys for Traitel Bros. & Co., and the matter referred to the District Attorney. A warrant was issued against these two sureties on the charge of perjury, and both were taken into custody. The surety Kinne was examined before Police Justice Simms, and at the close of the examination was held under $2,500 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury. Tuesday morning the surety Adams waived examination, and was likewise held under $2,500 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

It is to be hoped that the result of these proceedings will have a wholesome effect upon the many professional "straw" bondsmen who infest this city. An interesting example of the cast-iron cheek and recklessness of these individuals is found in the fact that when this surety Kinne was taken into custody on the charge above referred to, he was released under $1,500 bail—his bondsman being an individual with no more responsibility than himself. This fact being brought to the notice of Justice Simms, his bail was increased to $2,500.

THE GRAND OLD SOCIETY.

The 130th annual report of the General Society of Mechanics' and Tradesmen of the City of New York, or "The Grand Old Society," as President Chas. A. Cowen named it in his inaugural address last January, has just been printed for circulation. It records the fortunes of the Society for the year 1898, and is remarkable for the difficulties that arose in the affairs of the Society from various causes and for the able way in which they were overcome by the self-sacrificing and able men who manage this excellent institution, which, founded in pre-Revolutionary days, has a continuous record for useful and charitable work down to the present time. The gross income of the Society for the year was $60,427.33, and the gross expenditure, $58,885.38; leaving a balance of $1,541.95. The lease of No. 472 Broadway and Nos. 30-36 Crosby street, was renewed for a second term of 21 years, at $7,000 a year, or an advance of $2,000 per annum over the rental for the first term. An unsatisfactory lease of the Varick Building at Broadway and Park place was terminated and new arrangements for tenanting the building made which promised to be in every way more satisfactory. The Seventh avenue and Broadway property has required the usual attention in the way of repairs; owing to existing leases it will not be entirely available for improvement until 1901. An appropriation of $5,000 was secured from the Board of Estimate and Apportionment for library purposes after an examination and issue of certificate of registry by the University of the State, which were promptly accorded when requested.

The stone found in the coping of the southern front of the City Hall, recording the names of the builders of that edifice had a particular as well as a general historic interest for the Society, the trustees of which immediately on learning of its discovery, interested themselves in its preservation. Among the names engraved on the stone were those of John McComb, Jr., architect; Abraham Labagh, Master Stonecutter; Anthony Steenback, and Arthur Smith, Master Masons; Joseph Newton, Master Carpenter, and James Hopson, Clerk; all of whom were in their lives members of this Society; two—Abraham Labagh and John McComb, Jr.—having each held the office of President, and James Hopson having been Secretary for 21 years from 1805 to 1826. These facts illustrate the intimate relations between the history of the Society and that of the structural development of this city.

The trustees hint their regret that they cannot record any additions to the Daniel D. Wright Pension Fund, which they regard as one of the most beneficent that has ever been established under the auspices of the Society, and express the hope that in their next report they will have a different feeling to express. The schools, and library of the Society were maintained in efficiency and usefulness. The report concludes by asking the following pertinent question, in reference to the Trade School section: "Is it not time to take up the suggestion, made in 1897, by your special committee having this department in charge, and repeated and urged in their last report, to establish and maintain a trade school of our own."

BOARD OF BROKERS ON TAX REVISION.

At the meeting held last Monday by the committee on taxation of the Board of Brokers, delegates were present representing the West End Association, the Reform Club, the North Side Board of Trade, the Builders' League and various other organizations.

After a general discussion, opened by President John F. Doyle, the following resolutions were adopted: "Resolved, That the memorial as prepared by the Real Estate Board of Brokers of the City of New York for presentation to Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, Governor of the State, requesting him to appoint a commission of five competent men whose duty it shall be between now and the opening of the Legislative session of 1900 to prepare a new, clean-cut system of taxation which shall be fair and just to all—corporations and individuals alike—without discrimination, be and it is hereby approved; and be it further resolved, That in case the Governor shall deem it inexpedient to appoint said commission in view of the fact that he has already sent a message to the Legislature recommending a joint committee of that body to take up the question of taxation of public franchises, then in that event we appeal to the Governor to recommend that when said committee is created they be empowered not alone to formulate laws in regard to public franchises, but they be authorized and requested to take up the question of taxation from every standpoint, and revise the entire tax laws of the State so that every individual and corporation deriving any benefit from the government shall bear his, her or its just and equal proportion of the expenses of carrying on the government honestly and economically administered; And be it further resolved, That we appeal to the Governor to recommend that the meetings or sessions of the proposed joint Legislative Committee be open to the public in order that all who are interested in the question of taxation may be heard upon this most vital and important subject."

The various bodies represented at the meeting were thereupon merged into an Executive Committee on Taxation to take up the work of presenting the memorial to the Governor. John F. D---, President of the Board of Brokers, was made chairman of the committee.

BUILDING TRADE CLUB DECENNIAL.

The following relating to the coming decennial celebration of the Building Trades' Club has been issued over the signature of John L. Hamilton, President, and Wm. K. Fertig, Sec'y. The House Committee, of which Stephen M. Wright is chairman, has determined that this function shall set a record for completeness and attractiveness. The details are withheld in order that their enjoyment may be full and complete and not infringed by preknowledge:

To the Members:

The tenth anniversary of the formal organization of the Club will occur on the 24th instant, and as this marks so important an epoch in its history, the Board of Management deems it proper to celebrate the event in a manner commensurate with the occasion.

As the underlying principle, as well as direct purposes, of the Club has been to develop the social element in the building trades, it is proposed that on this occasion the entertainment shall partake more of a social character than perhaps ever before attempted, and to give proper effect to this idea and make it largely in the nature of a "family gathering" the attendance will be restricted to members only.

The House Committee is to arrange a suitable programme, which is to include such features as are strictly in keeping with the event celebrated, while refreshments will be served thoughout the evening.

It is essential to the success of the reunion that it receive the encouragement and support of every member, and that their interest in the event be manifested by their attendance.

To the members enrolling themselves in 1889 a special request is made that they be present, as they are considered the "Founders" of the Club. While to all members the hope is expressed that by their presence they will aid in establishing the fact that the Club has been and will continue to be an important factor in the building craft of this city.

WAR TAX ON CONVEYANCES.

The Collector of Internal Revenue has decided to appeal from the recent decision of Judge Taft, that a conveyance is taxable only on the equity conveyed and not upon the value of the property conveyed. It is understood that the case will be carried to the Supreme Court of the United States. Pending the result of this litigation the rule regarding the tax on conveyances that has hitherto prevailed will be continued. Should the government be finally beaten those who have paid excess taxes will be entitled to claim a return of the amount or amounts so paid.

THE REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE AND RAPID TRANSIT.

The Rapid Transit Committee of the Real Estate Exchange met on Thursday, and passed the following resolution, copies of which are being forwarded to the Governor, the Lieutenant-Governor, and the members of the Senate and Assembly committees in charge of the bills referred to. Present at the meeting were Richard Deeves, chairman; Frank R. Houghton, secretary; Charles F. Hoffman, Jr., John J. Clancy, and John T. Boyd.

The City of New York is suffering through the lack of real rapid transit, and we cannot urge too strongly upon the Legislature the great importance of the subject to the welfare of our citizens.

Resolved, That the Real Estate Exchange and Auction Room, Limited, of the City of New York, having the utmost confidence in the Board of Rapid Transit Commissioners, urgently request the Legislature of the State of New York to pass at the earliest possible moment the amendments submitted by the said Commissioners, and thereby place the Commissioners in a position to award the building of a real rapid transit road to the parties who will best subserve the interest of the city.

KEEPING REAL ESTATE RECORDS.

As records accumulate, they grow in value. The real estate broker who was wise enough a few years ago to keep methodically a list of conveyances, mortgages, and similar matters, either by preserving the Record and Guide, or by adopting some system based upon our publication, recognizes that fact to-day. The broker who did not have foresight also recognizes it, for it has come about in the last decade, with the growth of the city and the great increase in real estate transactions, that some form of continuous record is absolutely necessary. A satisfactory record must be in the first place complete and accurate. The next essential is that it should be of easy reference, compact and get-at-able. In relation to this matter our readers will find on the inside of the back cover of this issue an advertisement of the Library Bureau. This well-known concern has originated a card-system of keeping records which excels in every way anything that has yet been devised. Its advantages are so obvious that it has already been adopted by many of the large real estate brokerage houses, and it is rapidly growing in favor. Our readers ought to investigate the merits of this system. It is worth looking into, for the plan is a flexible one, and can be adopted to all special requirements. The Library Bureau are perfectly willing to show and explain this system to anyone who is interested, and will gladly do so to anyone who will call them up on the telephone, 45 Franklin, or send word to their offices, No. 280 Broadway.

THE MAZET COMMITTEE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Since the beginning of the Mazet Investigating Committee I have been spoken of and taken for the witness, George S. Hayes, who has been testifying before it; and in the interest of justice will you kindly state for me that I am in no manner whatsoever connected with or related to that gentleman. GEO. HAYES.

FIREPROOFING RESIDENCES.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I read article in your last issue, entitled "Another Object Lesson," with a great deal of pleasure, and I desire to commend your action in urging the necessity for greater safeguards against fire. As you say, the cost of fireproofing, even in residences, is not to-day a serious item. Some years ago you presented to your readers the carefully prepared statistics of a competent architect, showing that the difference in cost of construction of a fireproof building over the ordinary kind was but 19 cents per square foot, "floor measure," and to my mind the principal reason why there are not more fireproof buildings is because of the ignorance of the true cost existing among a certain class of architects, contractors, builders and house-owners, who, when spoken to on the subject as to the cost of such buildings, will generally reply "Oh! It will cost a great many times more than a building with wooden beams, wooden studs, etc., etc."

Apart from the greater safety to life, the advantages of erecting fireproof buildings are manifold in the matter of increased rents, durability, wear and tear, lessened insurance, deadening of sound, and many other incidental advantages which, if they were fully known and appreciated, would cause investors to insist upon plans being drawn for such buildings.

The writer thinks it would be a wise step on the part of the Legislature to so amend the building laws in all densely populated districts as to compel the owners who erect buildings to contain over five families, to construct the same fireproof, and the builders of fireproof apartment houses would soon learn that such buildings would not only command a greatly increased rent, that such buildings would be filled up while others stood idle, but they would find a far more ready sale for them to investors. The principal reason why more apartment houses have not been erected has been due, as stated, largely to the lack of knowledge concerning their increased cost. The law now requires that the rich man's apartment house, or hotel, shall be fireproof. Why should not our Legislatures declare that the poor man is entitled to as much protection as the wealthy? The poor man's wife and children are as dear to him as they are to the other class. Almost daily we read of one or more persons being burned or killed in consequence of fires in tenements and apartment houses. If the sum total or aggregate of the loss of life in these houses was computed for one year, the list would be appalling. The reason why but little attention is paid to them is because they are of such frequent occurrence that we have grown callous to them, and it is only when a large hotel like the Windsor destroys several score of wealthy and prominent people, or as in the case of the fire in the Andrews household, that any considerable excitement ensues.

For the above reasons, the writer thinks that the bill introduced in the Legislature by Mr. Ware, providing that tenement and apartment houses over 35 feet in height shall be built fireproof, the same as hotels, theatres, hospitals, etc., is eminently a wise measure, and designed to protect the middle classes and the poor. Your truly, C. SIEDLER.

Next!

WHAT CAN OUR CITY AND FIRE AUTHORITIES BE THINKING OF IN PERMITTING THE USE OF ORDINARY WOOD IN BUILDING CONSTRUCTION?

The Windsor Hotel.

The Andrews residence.

The Vanderbilt country seat—"Idle Hour."

Next?

Is any further proof needed by our architects, builders, officials and public, that all buildings should be fireproof?

Not the big office building only, or the mammoth hotel or the huge apartment-house, but every edifice intended for the occupancy of human beings.

The little as well as the big. The city residence and the country house.

To-day practically all our buildings everywhere, throughout the land are inflammable, ready for the match or the spark to ignite, with a repetition of the disasters spoken of above.

Next?

What architect, builder or official now putting up structures in this city will, after these examples, accept the responsibility of manufacturing fire-traps? There is no excuse to-day, as there was when the Windsor Hotel was built. In the past few years the science of fireproofing has been marvelously advanced, and the cost of structural protection as marvelously reduced.

Nor is fireproofing any longer dependent upon the use of comparatively heavy and intractable materials.

Heretofore the notion has existed, and, indeed, it exists to-day, that fireproof material must necessarily be heavy, clumsy and unornamental. This is due to the popular association of the idea of fireproofing exclusively with terra cotta and iron. Nothing could be further from the actual facts. By using fireproof wood the architect and builder is now provided with a flexible material which will easily embody his most luxurious designs, and one that may be carved and moulded with the utmost ease. Far from losing any of its natural beauty, wood treated by the Electric Fireproof Co.'s process is improved both in color, texture and grain. In this way all our old associations with the different familiar woods are preserved to us, with the essential addition that our homes and other habitations are rendered safe.

You may use wood. Use it everywhere. Use it abundantly for everything. For doors and windows, trim and flooring. Paint it and varnish it just as in the past. But see that the wood itself has been made fireproof.

Fireproof wood is now within the reach of everyone. It is beyond the experimental stage. It needs no "tests" or certificates of merit. Experts everywhere, in Europe, as well as in this country, know that the Electric Fireproofing Company, of New York, has solved a problem that has cried for solution for years. And it has solved it beyond all doubt or question.

The search for a process whereby wood might be rendered incombustible is no new thing. It might be said that the idea is an obvious one. The use of wood in construction is so much a matter of necessity, and the great glaring defect of the material is its inflammability. Everybody has perceived this, and so for the last fifty years we find scientists have been busy endeavoring to render wood fireproof. Failure after failure was scored, until by the introduction of the electric fireproof process the problem was completely and finally solved. It overcame the difficulties which rendered other attempts practically valueless. In them the fireproofing principle depended upon volatile substances, or else the chemicals introduced to afford protection also destroyed fibre, natural color and strength. By the Electric Co.'s process these very qualities of the wood are enhanced, and a perfect material results.

The great naval powers of the world, including the United States and Great Britain, are using electric fireproofed wood in all their warships. They have made themselves as sure of its virtues as they have of the strength of the armor-plate they are using, or the power of the guns with which they equip their vessels. They know that it can't be set on fire; that it can't communicate flame; that it is absolutely safe. It is very gratifying to note that the world has turned to this country for its latest idea in fireproofing.

Big factories in Europe are pushed hard to turn out the Electric fireproofed wood required. The demand in this country is equally heavy.

Any architect or builder who is ignorant of fireproofed wood should begin at once to inform himself. The facts are positive and as easily ascertainable as the strength of steel or the durability of stone. They are established, verified, indubitable. Not a building should be put up with the old tinder lumber in it. When science has given us easy and sure protection, it is criminal to erect homes, school-houses, theatres, apartment houses and other habitations that any accident or slight defect may destroy at any moment with all the lives housed in them.

BRONX IMPROVEMENTS.

The Board of Public Improvements considered on Wednesday last several propositions for improvements in the Bronx, which Louis A. Risse, engineer in charge of the Topographical Bureau, laid before them. One of these was for the approval of a map of White Plains road widened to a uniform width of 100 feet, from Mt. Vernon to the entrance of Bronx Park, at Pelham Parkway. The map was accepted by the Board, and arrangements made for a public hearing on May 17th next, of which formal notice will be given later.

A second proposition, which was approved, and a public hearing thereon fixed for May 10th next, was to lay out a small park in the block bounded by Southern Boulevard, 132d street, Willis avenue and Brown place, for the purpose of establishing through it, between Southern Boulevard and 132d street, an approach to the Willis avenue bridge. The object of this approach is to give the great traffic of Southern Boulevard a direct means of reaching the bridge, otherwise it will have to make a detour along 138th street. It was also proposed to take a strip 60 feet wide, of the block sold at auction this week, between 3d and Lincoln avenues, for an approach to the 3d avenue bridge, but the Board postponed its consideration.

The matter of the grade of the 145th street bridge approach, and that of altering the bridge, was referred to the engineer.

The Real Estate Market

Real Estate Market.

The private sales' market has been fairly active in view of the concentration of interest on the auction room, where considerably over three millions of dollars' worth of real estate was disposed of this week. The business was well distributed, and included several six-figure deals. The most interesting transactions were the purchase of No. 599 Broadway, near Houston street, possibly by Chas. A. Gould; the resale of a block front in Central Park West, by Judge P. Henry Dugro; the reported sale, by Margaretta Pierrepont, of No. 89 5th avenue, near 17th street; the sale by Hoffman Bros., of the store at Nos. 407 to 411 Greenwich street, and the sale of several dwellings in Riverside Drive and in the 5th avenue district.

The total number of transactions reported below is 63, with considerations given in 8, and amounting to $804,000. Corresponding figures for last week were 63, 5 and $407,000, respectively.

The leading events in the auction room this week were the executors' sale for the estate of Amos R. Eno, and the executors' sale for the estate of Bryan Lawrence, conducted by Peter F. Meyer, on Wednesday and Thursday, respectively. The offerings at this, the second, Eno sale, comprised downtown business property, the famous Broadway and 23d street triangle, and unimproved, or practically unimproved, sites in Broadway, between 54th and 110th streets, and in the side streets, off Broadway—17 parcels in all; and the sum total realized was $2,091,400. Five parcels, aggregating $972,000, were bought by heirs of the estate, than whom none knew better the value of the several properties. Of the five parcels in question, two were bought by Amos F. Eno; three were purchased in the name of W. C. Hinckley, who, in one instance, at least, represented William P. Eno. The remaining twelve parcels were bought by Pease & Elliman, William Ziegler, Adolph Bendheim, Michael Coleman, Ruland & Whiting, Boehm & Boehm, S. Willershausen, Daniel Birdsall & Co., John G. Wendel, Maxwell S. Mannes, F. V. Ketcham, Samuel H. Stone, Heilner & Wolf, and A. L. Mordecai, either for themselves or clients. Interest naturally centered in the Broadway and 23d street triangle, which sold for $690,000, the actual purchaser being William P. Eno. Bidding started with an offer of $500,000 from Flake & Dowling, whose competitors were Douglas Robinson, Henry Morgenthau and W. C. Hinckley, to whom the property was struck down. Mr. Morgenthau's was the next highest bid, $685,000. The successful bid, though showing an increment of about 2,000 per cent. on the original investment, made 42 years ago, was not considered a high one, while the future of this remarkable piece of realty, which has been frequently discussed of late, remains as much a mystery as ever. Generally speaking, the values obtained for the uptown building sites were fully up to popular appraisements, although this was not true to the same extent of the downtown properties. The price of the southeast corner of Broadway and 78th street was regarded as especially high. William Carlin, whose horse-shoeing establishment adjoins the corner on both sides, and who was outbid in the competition, has since been offered the contract for $200. Apart from the gratifying, though not unexpected, proof which it afforded of the soundness of the auction market, the Eno sale was important from the circumstance that it throws open for immediate improvement many plots which have hitherto barred the progress of development in upper Broadway and adjacent streets.

The other notable sale of the week was that of the estate of Bryan Lawrence, late vice-President of the Emigrants' Industrial Savings Bank, and President of the Catholic Protectory in Westchester. This estate, among the heirs to which are the well-known auctioneers, Bryan L. and William Kennelly, was originally to have been offered a year ago, at which time the sale was postponed, owing to the outbreak of hostilities with Spain. The principal holding, the Harlem water front, between 3d and Lincoln avenues, was started at $100,000, and went to Flake & Dowling for $213,000, their chief competitor being a syndicate composed of Heilner & Wolf, Ottinger Brothers and Sonn Brothers. Mr. Lawrence is said to have refused $500,000 for the property before it was damaged by the erection of the Third Avenue Bridge, for which he obtained $125,000 in compensation from the city. In view of the values which now rule for the Harlem water fronts, it is interesting to recall that it is not many years since the project was seriously considered of closing up that now busy waterway. The other offerings of the Lawrence estate were a dwelling in 73d street, and the bicycle academy, on the southwest corner of 60th street and the Boulevard, the latter of which went to Chas. E. Appleby, for $161,000. The prices of the water front and Boulevard corner were regarded as low by some of the beneficiaries of the estate, but are fully accounted for by the speculative character of the holdings.

A number of smaller voluntary sales by other auctioneers, notably William M. Ryan and Richard V. Harnett, served to give a fair support to the two most prominent events of the week. Mr. Ryan disposed of several store and warehouse buildings in Greenwich street, near Barclay, for the estate of William Henry Hall; on the other hand, the country seat, Elmhurst, including 40 acres, at New Hamburg, Dutchess County, offered by the same auctioneer for the estate of Samuel Sands, was withdrawn. The country seat lately occupied by George H. Squire, and comprising nearly five acres, fronting on the Boston Post road and Park avenue, at Rye, Westchester County, was sold by Mr. Harnett to James Commerford for $12,000. Another country seat which will be sold presently, in partition, and by William M. Ryan, though the date has not yet been fixed, is that of Samuel J. Tilden, whose city house, No. 14 Gramercy Park, is advertised by the same auctioneer for May 10. Greystone is one of the handsomest estates on the Hudson River, and lies just below Yonkers, being surrounded by 60 acres of lawn, and including a farm of 90 acres. It was purchased by Mr. Tilden in 1879, and will be sold at Yonkers.

The Huntington Tract, or so much of it as now remains unsold, is to be put up at auction in lots, on Tuesday, 25th inst., by Peter F. Meyer, and sold without reserve. It will be remembered that this tract is located on St. Ann's avenue, 138th, 139th, 140th and 141st streets, and was purchased from C. P. Huntington in block by a number of well-known operators. Part was sold last spring, and the balance, consisting of 91 choice lots, is now to be closed out. Since the last sale there has been considerable building on this tract, which is right in the line of development. The city has spent a great deal of money in this section in completing the street improvements, and building schools, etc. The L road and trolley lines afford good traveling facilities. The terms of sale, as will be seen from the advertisement on another page, are liberal, and Title Guarantee and Trust Co. will guarantee titles free of charge to purchasers. Another parcel of lots, which will be sold on the 18th inst, Tuesday next, by the same auctioneer, is located on the southeast corner of Lincoln avenue and 138th street, and enjoys all the benefits ascribed to the Huntington tract. Particulars of this sale will also be found in our business pages, as will also those relating to the coming sale of city property by Mr. Meyer, which is noted elsewhere. Inquiries regarding any of these properties can be made to the auctioneer at No. 111 Broadway, where also book-maps can be obtained.

Comptroller Coler, acting for the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, has advertised for sale the block of land and the buildings on it, lying between Washington, Duane, West and Reade streets. This land for many years has been the property of the city, and has commonly been leased. It will be sold at noon on Thursday, May 4th, by Peter F. Meyer, auctioneer. Sixty per cent (60%) of the purchase price may remain upon bond and mortgage for five years, at the rate of 6% per annum. The block is 270 feet deep on Duane street; 266 feet, 4 inches, along Reade street, 70 feet, 2 inches, wide along West street, and 70 feet and 7 inches along Washington street. On Thursday, April 27th, Comptroller Coler will sell at his office, in the Stewart Building, a lease of five years, from May 1, 1899, of 112 acres of land owned by the city, on Barren Island, Brooklyn. He will also sell a lease of land and buildings on the easterly side of the old Croton Aqueduct, south of West 152d street, and on the west side of Amsterdam avenue. This property is 97 feet wide and 79 feet deep on the southerly side. It is triangular in shape. Other pieces of land, and buildings thereon, of which leases will be sold at the same time, are as follows: The premises on the southeasterly corner of Amsterdam avenue and East 152d street; west of the old Croton Aqueduct, 78 feet and 11 inches on Amsterdam avenue; the premises on the north side of West 151st street, 225 feet west of Amsterdam avenue, which are 50 feet wide and 97 feet deep; the premises on the north side of West 151st street, 150 feet east of Amsterdam avenue, which are 25 feet wide and 99 feet and 11 inches deep; the premises on the north side of West 151st street, 125 feet east of Amsterdam avenue, which are 25 feet wide and 99 feet and 11 inches in depth; cellars in the Centre Market; and also the upper part of the northerly portion of the Centre Market building; and offices on the 6th avenue side of the second and third floors of the Jefferson Market Building.

Richard V. Harnett & Co's auction announcements for the near future include the offerings of the John Bisco estate, which will be sold on the 26th by order of the executors, Frank Moss and Thomas Snell. They consist of attractive flats and tenements located between East 13th and East 38th sts, which will be found described in our business pages and to which attention is recommended. The same auctioneers will sell on Wednesday next, 19th inst., a lot on Jerome av and six flats on Villa av; and on Thursday next, 20th, the northwest corner of Lexington av and 29th st, of all of which particulars can be found on our business pages or obtained of the auctioneers at Nos 71 and 73 Liberty st.

Bryan L. Kennelly will sell at auction Thursday next, 20th inst., a number of flats, being Nos 801, 803 and 805 East 145th st, which are double 4-story and basement brick flats; two 4-story brownstone double flats, Nos 334 and 336 East 70th street, and a 5-story double brownstone flat, No 385 Lenox avenue, near 129th street. Further particulars may be found in our business pages or at the office of the auctioneer, No. 66 Liberty street.

Attention is called to the announcement of the auction sales of Brooklyn realty by Jere Johnson, Jr., which will be found in our advertising pages. These sales are fixed for Wednesday and Thursday of next week, and will include flats and stores, flats and other improved land, as well as vacant lots and plots in different parts of Brooklyn, besides the Ira O. Miller tract on 41st to 45th street, 7th and 8th avenues. Buyers at the last mentioned sale are offered 75% of purchase money at 4½%. Jere Johnson, Jr., Co. will communicate any desired details at either of their offices, No 169 Broadway, N. Y. City, or No. 189 Montague street, Brooklyn.

Frank L. Fisher Co. state that they have sold for Amy Robsart Shaver, the Robinshood property at Whitestone, Long Island, for about $115,000.

Brooklyn.

The week in Brooklyn realty has been characterized by what might be called average activity in all classes of holdings. Just now the renting season is at its height, and those brokers who do a large renting business will continue to be busy up to the 1st of May. If the activity in this line continues at its present rate there will be very few houses to let after that date. Brokers report a steady demand for moderate priced houses in all sections of the borough, with a supply hardly adequate to meet it. This state of facts seems to indicate that thus far the immense building in the outlying wards has not as yet seriously affected the older parts of Brooklyn. Those interested in property in the latter sections fear that the increased transit facilities and the development of so much suburban property will ultimately have a depreciating effect unless the increase in population keeps pace with the increased supply of houses.

The following are the comparative tables for the Brooklyn Conveyances, Mortgages and Projected Buildings for the corresponding weeks of 1899 and 1898 given:

One of the finest landscapes in or around Brooklyn is that stretching along from 39th street towards the south and eastward from the Bay to and beyond the wooded crest of the Highlands to the easterly line of the old city. This tract was purchased from the Indians in the year 1636 by William Arrance Bennett, and from that time to a recent date it has been in the possession of his descendants or grantees including the De Harts, the Bergens, the Van Brunts and the Bennetts. They held it in large tracts or farms divided and subdivided by lines running perpendicular to the Bay. But nothing can stop the promoter and his new streets and avenues, and in time this whole region was mapped and laid out into little parallelograms called blocks and city lots. But what was a city lot to a Bergen or Bennett? It might do for a burial place, but they could not live and breathe within such narrow limits. They yielded to the inevitable, and moved on to seek rest and beauty in some less favored locality. Then came new legislative acts and surveyors and street commissioners with carts and grading machines in their train, and then blocks and rows of beautiful houses for thousands of good people sprang up upon the site of those wooded hills and corn-covered fields of bygone days. And thus passed the charming farm of South Brooklyn. One of the largest and prettiest pieces of those old farms still remaining lies on the easterly side of the new Sunset Park, and it will be sold at auction on the 20th of this month by the Jere. Johnson Co., and then rows of suburban city houses will take the place of this part of the old farms.

The few remaining farms in Kings County are rapidly passing out of the hands of the original owners into the control of big operators or companies. During the week the farm of the late Stephen Harriman, situated in the 31st Ward, was purchased by a local syndicate composed of William E. C. Mayer, Charles H. Hyde, General James McLeer, M. J. Dady, Frederick J. Ashfield and William F. Schmidt. This farm consists of about 68 acres, and is situated on the westerly side of Garretson's Creek, between Avs U and V, and extending back to the property of the Coney Island Jockey Club. The stated consideration was $1,000 per acre. This property has been in the Harriman family for nearly two hundred years. Av U, which runs through the center of the tract, is the only complete street opened from Gravesend Bay to Bergen Beach. It is the intention of the Brooklyn Heights Railroad Company to run a belt line through this street as soon as the proposed bridge at this point is constructed. The Jurien Lott farm, in the 32d Ward, was also sold during the week, the purchaser being Mary E. Hendricks. This farm consists of some forty acres situated on Lott's lane, between Av U and Av T. It runs from a point near Flatbush av on the east to the center of Garretson's Creek on the west, with a frontage of over 500 feet on the creek. The new bridge referred to above will run through this tract and thus open up a new route to Coney Island. McNulty & Fitzgerald were the brokers who made both of these sales.

The first improvement in the Brooklyn rapid transit system was made this week when the express train service was started on the Lexington avenue line of the elevated road. If this experiment meets with favor a similar system will be introduced on all the elevated lines. It is also stated that a transfer system will be introduced which will allow transfers at certain stations from the elevated to the surface cars without extra charge.

Fairview Terrace, recently purchased by Henry C. Rath, of Flushing, L. I., from the Poppenhusen estate, will shortly be developed and placed on the market. This property consists of 47 acres in Flushing, situated on both sides of Jamaica avenue, and reaching from Sinclair avenue to Kissena Lake.

Thirty new houses at Ingleside, a suburb of Flushing, are soon to be built by the Realty Trust of New York City.

The deed of the John V. Voorhees farm to Dean Alvord is mentioned among our records of conveyances this week. The consideration of $111,000 for this accessible tract of high-grade property is not excessive.

An interesting auction sale of vacant lots will probably take place in Brooklyn next month. The Philip Pfalzgraf farm, comprising 23 acres on King's Highway, between 20th and 22d avenues, which has been under cultivation until this year, is about to be cut up and disposed of by the owner at public sale, although no auctioneer has yet been selected. The farm has been offered for sale at private contract for about $80,000. It was bought at foreclosure for $8,000 less than 25 years ago. Until the present year it was assessed at its value as farm land; the new assessment makes profitable cultivation impossible.

Frank Bailey, vice-president of the Title Guarantee and Trust Company, who is in charge of the Brooklyn office of that company, is one of the directors of the new Brooklyn Development Company. This is the company which has bought up so much farm land with the idea of getting control of this class of holding.

REAL ESTATE NOTES.

Herbert A. Sherman made his debut as an auctioneer this week under propitious circumstances, selling a parcel at foreclosure for several thousand dollars over the incumbrances. Another legal sale by him is scheduled for next week.

Through a clerical error, the vacant lots on the east side of Edgecombe avenue, 225 feet north of 150th street, were reported as withdrawn at $17,600 last week, under the auction sales of Geo. R. Read. The lots were not put up.

Of the twelve members of the Board of Brokers whose off-hand appraisements of the Broadway and 23d st triangle were secured before the Eno sale by H. A. B. Kelly, the valuation of Gardner Stewart, of Chas. H. Easton & Co., came nearest the price which the property sold for. Mr. Stewart's estimate was $700,000; the selling price was $690,000.

It is reported that the notorious Billy McGlory is to occupy the 1-sty concert hall and cafe, 45.10x100, on the north side of 59th street, 140.3 west of the Grand Circle, which is now under construction. According to the plans filed with the Building Department, the owner of the property is August H. Ruck.

J. N. Petty has resigned the Presidency of the Petty, Soulard & Walker Realty Company on account of poor health, and a desire to retire for a time at least from active business. The Board of Directors passed resolutions regretting the retirement of Mr. Petty, and expressing the hope that his health would soon be restored. The Board unanimously elected David Quigley as President of the Company.

As indicating a demand for a better class of housing on the East Side, it is interesting to note that Harry Fischel has determined to build two 6-story flats, with stores, instead of tenements, on the plot, 75x100, on the northeast corner of Grand and Suffolk streets. These are said to be the first flat houses proper in the neighborhood, and are designed by Samual Sass. This experiment is a recognition of the fact that there is a growing class of Eastsiders of means and education whose business and social demands make a nearby residence desirable, and whose tastes have outgrown tenement surroundings.

The buyer of the southwest corner of Broadway and 108th st, 100x100, sold through J. Romaine Brown & Co., was Daniel S. Slawson, father of the senior member of Slawson & Hobbs, and who was represented by that firm. The seller was Frederick Entz, and the price $100,000. It required an outlay of about $30,000 to cure the defect in the title to the corner gore, 8x5x12, which lies in the bed of the old Bloomingdale road, and the release of thirty-six heirs of Nicholas De Peyster and their grantees had to be secured. In this connection the following conveyance, noted in the Record and Guide of March 20, 1897, and which is only one of many, is suggestive of the logevity of the titles to some of the old public highways: "Bloomingdale road, whether now closed or hereafter to be closed, between 107th and 129th sts; all right, title, &c, in above. James Rogers to James A Deering. B & S. val consid."

We will pay a liberal price for copies of The Record and Guide Nos. 1453, 1454, 1460, 1461, 1471, 1475, 1554 and 1556; also Indice to Volumes 34 and 41, delivered at our office in good condition.

We will pay a liberal price for copies of Indices to Volumes 34, 41, 43 and 50 of the Record and Guide, delivered at our office in good condition.

CONCERNING REAL ESTATE AGENTS AND BROKERS.

N. W. Chambers, the well-known mortgage broker, has removed his office to the German-American Building, No. 35 Nassau st, Room 903. Owners of real estate having mortgages past due or maturing can obtain liberal loans at a low rate of interest and at small expense, by applying to Mr. Chambers. Mr. Chambers was lately associated with W. B. Brokaw, and the latter has retired.

The Maxwell Real Estate Co., of No. 150 West 34th st, manage twenty-one buildings, which they lease from owners, paying a stated yearly sum, together with taxes, repairs, etc., and furnish surety bonds to secure performance of agreements. Their specialty is high-grade apartments, and owners can arrange to secure advance rents by leasing to the Maxwell Real Estate Co.

Albert Etzel, agent and broker, of No. 734 Amsterdam av, corner of 96th st, is well known in the realty world, and is an experienced manager of property, besides having an excellent knowledge of values. The management of estates, collection of rents and placing of mortgage loans are his specialties. His son, Jos. L. Etzel, is manager of the Insurance Department of the office. Their telephone call is 914 Riverside.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICK.—Arrivals of Hudson River brick during the week have amounted to more than 70 barges. These went as rapidly as they came in. The market is in very good condition and the supply is nicely adjusted to the demand through natural causes. Demand is very good, and an advance in price has been made to $6.00 and $6.25.

LIME.—Rockland lime is coming along slowly and in insufficient quantities to entirely satisfy the call for it. The backward season and high shipping rates are chiefly responsible for the present situation. The inquiry is very good. Values are steady, and it is not probable that they will advance in the near future. Present sales are being made at 80@85c. for the common and 90@95c. for the finishing. State and Jointa lime are devoid of any new feature. They are enjoying a fair seasonable demand at 75c. and 90c. respectively.

CEMENT.—The volume of business in the cement market is increasing from week to week. The demand at present is very strong and larger than it has been in years. Prices are firm but have not advanced from former figures, 80@85c. and 95c. for the Rosendale. American Portland continues at the same figures as last quoted, but the market is firm.

LATH.—The first supply of any size for some time came in during the week. About 5,000,000 Eastern spruce lath arrived and were cleaned up as fast as they came in. Prices advanced to $2.40@2.50, and are firm at that figure. Demand was strong, and as stocks are light and supplies of late have only been in small quantities, the inquiry is still heavy. Few lath are reported to be on the way and no prices are being made to arrive.

LUMBER.—The local lumber market is devoid of any new feature of importance. Demand continues to be good and prices all along the line hold steadily. The conditions of the several woods show no material change.

NAILS.—The demand for nails, both cut and wire, has, if anything, fallen off a trifle during the past week. The heaviest part of the demand in the good trade for the last few weeks has come from the dealers whose stocks were somewhat low and who bought in anticipation of an advance in prices. The demand from the consumers has not begun as yet, although the present weather will probably serve to start the season. Quotations are, carload lots, jobbers, f. o. b. mill, Pittsburg base, $1.75; less than carload lots, $1.80. To others than jobbers, $1.80 and $1.95. Small lots out of store, $2.10. These quotations are for cut nails. Wire nails are $2.05 for car lots f. o. b. mill, Pittsburg base; $2.20 on dock N. Y., and $2.40 for small lots out of store.

GLASS.—The market for American window glass is in a state of suspension. Nothing can be done to relieve the present unsettled condition of affairs until the meeting of the Committee of the American Glass Co., which will take place early next week. Little glass is being sold as stocks are very light and there is no chance of replenishing them at present. Discounts range from 80 and 20% to 85 and 5%. Very little French window is coming along. A feature of the foreign demand is the large Japanese trade this spring. Discount is 80 and 10%.

NAVAL STORES.—As was suggested in our last report, the slump in the market for spirits of turpentine was checked at the figures quoted and prices took an upward turn. During the week values have advanced steadily, and at the close were firm at 44½c. for regulars and 45c. for machines. Demand has improved considerably and a fairly large amount of business is being done. The Southern market is in good condition. Only a moderate trade has taken place in tar, but sales ruled steady at $1.70@1.75 for regulars and $3.20 for oil barrels. Pitch was quiet and featureless at former values, $1.65@1.70.

OIL.—Quotations of linseed oil have advanced to 49c. for 5-bbl. lots or more, and 50c. for less than 5-bbl. lots, with the usual advance of 2c. per gallon for boiled. Out-of-town brands are quoted at 47c. and 48c. for 5-bbl. lots and under respectively. Demand is good at present and the movement of oil is moderately large. The immediate cause of the advance in price is the rise of seed. Calcutta oil is still at 58c. per gallon.

LEAD.—Prices as last announced by the National Lead Co. remain unchanged, with the exception that litharge is the same in keg as in cask. The market is seasonably strong.

PAINT.—Prices of dry colors show no appreciable change from last week. The volume of business is not large but it is not behind the season.

OF INTEREST TO THE BUILDING TRADES

R. C. Gildersleeve, formerly of 27 West 30th st, has removed to 150 5th av.

The Employers of Sheet Metal Workers will hold an executive meeting, Monday, April 17th, at 3.30 p. m.

The Tile, Grate and Mantel Association will meet in the Building Trades' Club-rooms, Thursday, April 20th, at 8 p. m.

The Architectural Iron Workers will hold a meeting at the Building Trades' Club-rooms, on Monday, April 17th, at 8 p. m.

James M. Joyce has been appointed Inspector of Plumbing in the Department of Buildings for the boroughs of Manhattan and The Bronx.

Frederick Pearce, now at 79 John st, will remove on or before May 1st, to the Metropolitan Realty Building, 18 and 20 Rose st, and 214-218 William st.

Oscar Lowinson, Nos. 39 and 41 Cortlandt st, has plans for 130 model dwellings for artisans. Some are to be of frame, four or five rooms each, and some of brick, five to seven rooms. Locations are not all decided upon, but 20 are in South Brooklyn, and six are thus far located in the Bronx. The architect will be ready to receive estimates from builders in a few days.

A writ of mandamus has been issued on the petition of Stone & Thurston, contractors, through their attorney, John C. Wait, requiring John F. Gouldsbury, as Auditor, and Bird S. Coler, as Comptroller, of the City of New York, to audit and pay the claims of the contractors for paving 100th st, between 1st and 2d avs. This case is of especial interest to contractors in that it determines that the Department of Finance cannot hold up claims against the city for work and materials furnished, and which have been approved and accepted by the inspector, engineer and commissioner of public works, by reason of the adverse reports of the engineers and inspectors of other departments of the city, such as the Commissioner of Accounts or the Department of Finance, unless they can show specific acts that constitute fraud and collusion. The determination of the Department of Public Works is conclusive, and complaints of other department officers will not excuse the Auditor or Comptroller in the performance of their duties, which are held to be ministerial. This claim is one of many that have been held up in the Comptroller's office, at the suggestion of the Mayor's Commissioners of Accounts, but which it is expected the Comptroller will now pay, having no other alternative.

TRADE NOTES.

STRUCTURAL AND ORNAMENTAL IRON WORK.

The long-established and successful Mutual Iron Works, Brady & Hauptmann, proprietors, are busy completing or arranging to furnish iron work for something like two hundred flats for up-to-date and progressive builders. Messrs. Schreiner Bros., head the list, with 30 houses; 16 on 7th av, 140th and 141st sts; 12 on 89th and 90th sts, and two on West 129th st. Other active builders include Rothschild & Son, 16 houses on 5th and Lenox avs; Isaac Mayer, about 20 houses, on Park and Madison avs; N. Hansen, block front on Amsterdam av; S. J. Egan, block at St. Ann's av and 141st st; and Hammer & Oesting, ten on upper 3d av. The Mutual Iron Works have a very commodious factory, with strictly modern machinery, at Nos. 406, 408, 410 and 412 East 104th st. Their telephone call is 118 79th street.

PLUMBERS' AND ARCHITECTURAL MARBLE WORK.

G. Greenhalgh & Co., of No. 413 East 91st st, are experienced and careful marble workers. Their specialty is executing contracts for plumbers' and builders' work. Some of their recent contracts embrace such fine apartment houses as Daily & Carlson's, at West End av and 106th st, and P. H. Lynch's fourteen private houses on Hamilton place. For the well-known plumber, R. Cummings, they supplied the marble work at Moore's new flats on 116th st, near Morningside Park. Their telephone call is 1027 79th street.

STANDARD ARCHITECTURAL SHEET METAL CO.

The above-named company have removed their works to No. 412 East 104th st, where they have larger and better equipped quarters for manufacturing cornices, skylights, building fronts, bay windows, sills and lintels. They recently completed the block front on 8th av, between 149th and 150th sts, for Builder Hugo F. Hoefler.

MURESCO FOR OFFICE BUILDINGS.

The superintendent of a large "sky-scraper" said recently, "We did the walls and ceilings of an office with Muresco. There were several large pieces of furniture against the walls which could not be moved at the time. Three weeks later, on a Sunday, we moved these and finished the job. It was impossible to detect any "laps," and the work had every appearance of having been done at one time. I always use Muresco because it covers well, works easy, and does not have to be washed off when additional coats are applied." Muresco has many other advantages which are thoroughly explained in an attractive booklet which will be sent to any one interested by the manufacturers, Benjamin Moore & Co., of Brooklyn, New York (Nos. 244-258 Water St.), and Chicago, Ill.

FOREIGN PORTLAND CEMENT.

The extraordinary demand for Portland cement abroad has enabled the European manufacturers to again advance their prices, and many of them will not ship their product to this market excepting at the highest market prices, even at a loss of their American trade. This explains the reduction in this year's importations of Portland cement, of which a large proportion consists of some of the best known German brands, such as Dyckerhoff, Star-Stettin, Heyn Bros. These continue to arrive in the usual large quantities to supply the continued good demand, as the manufacturers who have supplied this market for so many years, and have many valued friends in this country, desire to maintain their always so pleasant relations.

CONTRACTS FOR DEEP AND DIFFICULT FOUNDATIONS.

John F. O'Rourke, the well-known engineer and contractor, has removed his offices from No. 44 Broadway, to the Park Row Building, No. 15 Park row. Mr. O'Rourke is now building the new City Island Bridge at a cost of about $200,000. It will be about 1,500 feet long, including approaches, and connect City Island with Pelham Bay Park. The dredging for foundations is nearly completed and the crib fenders are being placed. Mr. O'Rourke furnishes architects with designs and estimates for any kind of deep or difficult foundations for buildings, and has machinery and special plant for the rapid and economical construction of pneumatic and other foundations, ready to go to work on one day's notice.

WOOD MANTELS.

I. Vrasda, for the convenience of his customers, the builders, has removed his showrooms to No. 2181 5th avenue, near 133d street. He has been established since 1885, and formerly sold only to the trade. His specialty is the manufacturing exclusively of wood mantels, which he supplies complete, at building, with mirror, from $9 upward. His factory continues at the old stand, Nos. 213 and 215 East 44th street.

A. R. WHITNEY & CO.

A. R. Whitney & Co., Metropolitan Agents of the Carnegie Steel Co., Lim., and agents for their structural material in the Metropolitan District, have removed their offices from No. 29 to No. 71 Broadway, Empire Building. The officers of the Company are: A. R. Whitney, President; J. P. Meday, Vice-President; G. A. Enell, Secretary; A. R. Whitney, Jr., Treasurer.

Questions and Answers

EAST RIVER BRIDGE—DATE OF COMPLETION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

We should be glad to hear when the East River Bridge is likely to be completed. L.

Answer.—So should we. This improvement is delayed, like many others, through the city's inability to issue bonds. At one time it was thought that the bridge could be completed and opened with the new century, but that hope is now abandoned, and we do not think a new date has been named.—Editor Record and Guide.

EXTENSION OF MORTGAGE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I own a house and the mortgage was due one year ago. The owner of the mortgage consented to extend same for five years without consideration. This was done. He being now dead, the heirs and their attorney claim the extension of mortgage is not good, on the ground that no consideration was paid for extension of same.

Answer.—If the extension was verbal and no consideration was paid, the claim of the heirs and the attorney is correct. If the extension was in writing and under seal it is good.—Law Editor.

ENCROACHMENT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A's wall has been three inches on B's lot for over twenty years. B has had beams in A's wall for over twenty years without beam right. A wants to tear down his house. (1) Must A protect or support B's beams? (2) Is there a flaw in A's title on account of present conditions?

Answer.—(1) Yes. (2) A has no title to the three inches which belong to B.—Law Editor.

BROKER'S RESPONSIBILITY FOR OWNER'S STATEMENT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Some time ago you quoted a decision of some court defining the duties of a real estate broker, saying the broker's duties were also to see as to correctness of owner's statements, &c. Kindly let me know the date of publication.

Answer.—Our correspondent doubtless has in mind an article on page 241 of our issue of February 11 last, headed: "Brokers' Commissions—A New Theory."—Editor Record and Guide.

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title, and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each Conveyance, thus 2 : 182, denotes that the property is in section 2 block 182.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded. When the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.
Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

PROJECTED BUILDINGS.

THE LAWS AFFECTING BUILDING.

There has not been any book on the market containing all the laws and regulations relating to building in New York City; yet the need of such a volume is plain enough, because a building from its foundation to its final demolition is subject not only to the building law, but to special regulations of the building department concerning passenger elevators, fire-escapes, light and ventilation and plumbing. There is also a law limiting the height of dwelling houses and another requiring temporary flooring. There are the tenement house and lodging house laws, laws relating to the extinction and prevention of fires and explosives, and the storing of combustible materials in buildings. Moreover, there are very important fire department regulations which must be observed in the installation of electrical apparatus, and there are, of course, all the regulations of the department of public works concerning Croton water rates and the use of water, the opening and refilling of trenches and restoring of street pavements; in addition to ordinances pertaining to the inspection of steam boilers. The architect, builder, building material man and real estate owner must be familiar with these laws and regulations; if he is not, he suffers. They are now all gathered together (with a directory of architects for the first time in one volume, illustrated, indexed and supplied for $2.50. Record and Guide, Publishers, 14 and 16 Vesey street.

The first name is that of the owner; ar't stands for architect; m'n for mason; c'r for carpenter, and b'r for builder.

When character of roof is not mentioned, it is to be understood that the roof is to be of tin.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's Office to be recorded. Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Vol. LXIII. APRIL 22, 1899. No. 1,623.

AN irregular but, on the whole, somewhat strong, stock market has been seen this week. The irregularity is explained by the lessening of speculative interest on the bull side and the strength by the fact that a great many of the buyers in the recent advance have not yet caught on to the fact that the tendencies do not point their way, and are still awaiting that further advance that is to carry them out with a profit. It is always the case that the close of a movement, either way, leaves a large party stranded, so to say, but obstinately ignorant of their true position. As time goes on and the movements of prices under the ordinary operations of the market bring enlightenment to them, they sell out or buy in, as the case may be, and so bring about those reactions for which the shrewd always wait to avail themselves. A grading down of prices is inevitable after such a big advance as the one we have just seen, no matter what the conditions may be. The last weekly government crop report was better than its predecessor, but local reports from some sections are in instances discouraging. From Kansas, for instance, this is particularly the case, and ought to prepare Wall Street for a reconsideration of the values of the securities of railroads owning much mileage in that state. Kansas has, probably, been more disappointing to Eastern capital than any other state in the Union, because, while it is so very largely an agricultural state, it possesses a climate which is constantly reproducing alternating periods of plenty and famine. A poor year means something far worse in Kansas than it does in other agricultural states. In the southeastern section of the country the prospects appear to be much better than they are elsewhere, and an attempt is being made to advance the securities of the railroads developing that section, on the excellent earning statements reported and on the fact that these securities did not benefit by the late advance as much as others did. We called attention to the favorable position of these securities some time back, and it has improved since, but whether it is possible to put up their quotations in the face of a general tendency towards a contrary movement remains to be seen. It is a sure thing, however, that they will not decline very much and will be the first to advance as soon as liquidation is completed and a new movement on the long side can be inaugurated; meantime they have a chance of being the exceptions that always are found to any movement.

FROM Europe not much of interest commercially and financially has transpired during the week. The improvement in the condition of the Bank of England, shown by its statement issued last Thursday, and the drop in the outside discount rates remove some of the fear that was expressed for the money market, but the change in the conditions was not sufficiently favorable to induce the Bank to lower its own rate, which remains at the comparatively high point of 3%. The persistency with which American securities are sold by Europe whenever a good market is offered for them indicates the demand that exists for funds for home enterprises. But for this, instead of selling Louisville & Nashville, Southern Railway and Norfolk & Western, London, at any rate, which has always had a great regard for these issues, would be buying them, now that the railroads on which they are predicated are doing so well. It is also clear that Europe is raising money on other American bond and stock issues, as it has often done before when in need. Russia has stopped buying gold and is in the market again as a borrower, owing, it is said, to the extreme distress caused by the famine and the demands on the government for assistance. The loss of revenue is always great as a result of such calamities; for, while the failure to pay taxes is one of the unpardonable offences in Russia, it is not possible to collect them from the people who have parted with their all to keep breath in their bodies. Politically, however, Russia is as alive as ever. Having established herself securely at Port Arthur, there are the usual indications that she is preparing to press herself forward to the Persian Gulf. There is the usual shower of newspaper paragraphs, magazine and review articles relating to her necessity for an opening on the Gulf, such as have always preceded the diplomatic and military movements that have produced her other advances. Meantime the preparations for the Czar's peace congress are proceeding, and Russian journals are prudently forestalling the first question likely to be asked—whether Russia herself would set the example of disarmament?—by laboriously endeavoring to show that her necessities require that she shall keep her present military equipment intact.

THE chances of Rapid Transit seem to be slipping away again. That is the regular course. For years every attempt to give this city real Rapid Transit has resulted in the same impotent conclusion which seems to be now again staring the city in the face. We might arrange the course of each crisis in the Rapid Transit disease as follows: A demand for better transportation facilities arises, due to intolerable conditions somewhere. Everybody agrees that really something must be done. A commission is appointed, and out of innumerable plans the only reasonable and practicable one is selected. The Commissioners go to work to make the selected plan operative. Rapid transit at last! Nothing of the sort. Somebody, somehow, for some purpose, objects. Some other plan which is clean impossible is revived. The whole situation is thrown into confusion. Politician, Governor, Court, some one interferes. Time has elapsed. Everyone is disheartened. The curtain goes down amid a chorus of newspaper chatter. In this way what we might call a Rapid Transit period is completed. And everybody is ready to begin the crazy process once again.

NEW YORK apparently is now suffering from one of these old fits. A week or two ago a distinct and solid offer of rapid transit was made. All that was needed was a little additional legislation, and the Rapid Transit Commissioners would have been in a position at last to give New York the one service it requires more than any other. The scheme proposed was not by any means the best ideally, but it possessed this colossal virtue—it was the best practically. No doubt it would be better for the municipality to build the underground road itself. We are in favor of that. But the city can't do it. It has not the money. It is not likely to have the money for years to come, unless by the practice of unheard-of economies and by the absolute neglect of all improvements other than Rapid Transit. The city authorities are opposed apparently to the city's financing the undertaking. Politicians would clash over it certainly. In short, to the practical vision the plan of municipal ownership is as far away from us as the moon. Yet, the crazy spell is on us. People are dropping the substance for the shadow. Misled by self-advertising newspaper clap-trap, they are all running toward a precipice beyond which, so far as actual transit is concerned, there is nothing but the void. Of course if the citizens of New York prefer to make paper plans and go through a sort of mock performance of getting them into effect, instead of actually building a railroad and running cars on it, why, they are doing the right thing. They are getting a lot of amusement and a heap of talk. But they are not getting a railroad, and, what is more, they won't get a railroad unless they are willing to consent to terms that will interest private capital as much as any other project to which private capital can at the moment turn. If the city is willing to make those concessions, someone will build the road for it. There is no prophesying in this. It is simply saying: We can have the goods if we will pay the market price for them. If we are not willing to pay the market price, we must make the goods ourselves—that is, the City must go into the railroad business and provide capital. But as the City cannot provide capital to-day, nor within any period now in sight, it is illusionary to accept this alternative. It means nothing. If we decide that the City must build or own, it would be shorter and better to stop talking about Rapid Transit and continue to pay out five cents without grumbling for standing room only in crowded cars.

IT is satisfactory to receive assurance from Dr. Roger S. Tracy, Registrar of Vital Statistics in the Bureau of Records of the Health Department, that the population of this city is undergoing its natural increase, because the increase is necessary for our progress and prosperity. Dr. Tracy estimates that on July 1 next Manhattan will have a population of 1,953,569, an increase of 52,237 over the population on the same day of last year; Bronx, 163,537, an increase of 10,161; Brooklyn, 1,231,548, an increase of 34,610; Queens, 134,139, an increase of 6,032; Richmond, 67,260, an increase of 1,944. The percentages of the increases do not, however, favor Manhattan as much as do the gross increases. In fact, proportionately, according to Dr. Tracy's figures, the population of the Bronx is growing more rapidly than that of any other borough in the city. The increase of Manhattan is at the rate of 2.7%; that of Brooklyn 2.8%; that of the Bronx, 6.6%; Queens has a rate of increase between 4% and 5%, and Richmond less than 3%. Put another way, and taking a tenement house capacity to be 100 people, Manhattan's population received additions equal to 522 such houses; Brooklyn's, 346 houses; the Bronx's, 101 houses; Queens, 60 houses, and Richmond, 19 houses. Of course the actual average population per house is very much less than this, which fact, with the figures previously given, explains why domestic building goes on all the time in spite of what appears often to be, though erroneously, an over-supply.

OUR ALBANY LETTER.

Albany, April 20.—The New York Rapid Transit bill, in the opinion of Corporation Counsel Whalen, who has been here several days consulting with Governor Roosevelt and the Rapid Transit Commission, is at last in a shape to meet the approval of the authorities of the city of New York. The bill still authorizes the Rapid Transit Commission to sell a perpetual franchise for a rapid transit road. It has been amended this week so as to give the authority to the Corporation Counsel to veto any contract for the sale of the franchise if he does not consider it in the interest of the people; secondly, the Corporation Counsel is to conduct the legal business of condemning lands. Mr. Whalen thinks this will expedite the work of the Rapid Transit Commission at least six months, to have the city a party to the proceedings. Mr. Whalen said to-day: "I think the bill will pass."

A bill of Assemblyman Hill, of Buffalo, intended to give opportunity for the building of enormous docks on the European scale for big ocean steamships, received a setback in the Senate to-day, being referred by the Senate Committee on Taxation and Retrenchment for a hearing.

The following bills have passed the Senate, as well as one empowering the city to remove ice and snow from sidewalks and to make the cost of such work a charge on the adjoining property.

Senator Mitchell's (Intro. No. 559), placing the whole of the cost on making a public place between 161st and 162d street and between Courtlandt avenue and the Harlem R. R. on the city.

Senator Grady's (Intro. No. 162), empowering the East River Bridge Commission to purchase additional lands.

Assemblyman Buckley's (Intro. No. 964), putting the work of planting trees in the streets of the city of New York in the hands of the Park Department. Mayor Van Wyck gave a hearing on this bill on Thursday and took it under advisement.

Assemblyman Finn's (Intro. No. 923), enumerating the places surrounding the markets of the city where the space within the stoop line of streets can be used for the storage and display of merchandise.

Assemblyman Costello's (Intro. No. 1464), amending section 82 of chapter 415 of the Laws of 1897 so as to require fire escapes to be provided on the outside of every factory of three or more stories in height when deemed necessary by the factory inspector.

Senator Elsberg's (Intro. No. 493), requiring the repayment of taxes and assessments paid since April 26, 1894, on lands taken for the St. Nicholas Park, and making them a charge on the fund for street and park openings.

The brokerage business has recovered fully from the apathy of the past two weeks, when the auction branch of the real estate market commanded an unusual share of attention. Indeed, the recovery is more complete than might have been expected, for towards the end of April building loan transactions usually begin to grow less numerous. The budget of sales is rather better than the weekly average during the past quarter, both as regards volume and character. The average of transactions during the quarter was 73, with consideration given in 14, amounting to $1,582,902. The corresponding figures for the week are 82, 18, and $1,517,500. Although it is hardly safe to make any dogmatic prediction as to the course of the market, indications would seem to support the assumption of a fairly well sustained activity until the approach of summer, inasmuch as financial conditions are certainly more favorable to real estate investment than they were before the banks began to discriminate against the new industrials. It is interesting to note that the buyer of a large plot, with old houses, in West 33d and 32d streets, is said to be a Wall street speculator who is putting a recently made fortune into a permanent investment, and who intends eventually to erect a 14-story apartment hotel on the order of the Martinique. That there is room for another hostelry in this neighborhood of hotels is evident from the fact that the Martinique has a waiting list of 65 names, and that at least one suite of two rooms and bath, rented at $900, has been sublet at $1,200. The sale of No. 51 West 31st street helps to swell the budget of news from this interesting neighborhood. The most notable transaction of the week, however, was the sale of the 5-story building on Broadway, adjoining the southwest corner of Dey street, by the Remsen estate to the Mercantile National Bank, which already owns the corner. This transaction is said to prefigure an important building operation, and, taken in connection with rumors of negotiations for other Broadway sites, would seem to foreshadow a revival of the building movement in the downtown section of the avenue. An important deal in the opposite end of the island was the purchase by Hyman and Henry Sonn of 31 vacant lots in the block bounded by Lenox and 7th avenues, 140th and 141st streets. This purchase forms part of the old Watt homestead, which extended to the Harlem River, and much of which has been sold to operators and builders, including John D. Crimmins and Henry Morgenthau. The latter bought in October last the entire block bounded by Lenox and Seventh avenues and 138th and 139th streets. The excellence of the demand for vacant land is further evidenced by the purchase by Samuel Green of 36 lots comprising the site of the Dwight factories on the westerly block front in 1st avenue between 112th and 113th streets, and which lie opposite the new Jefferson Park, in Little Italy. Francis S. Kinney bought 576 Madison av. for the purpose of securing, with previous holdings, a site 75x100 on which to build a 12-story brick and limestone hotel. These more or less sensational deals are well supported by hardly less notable transactions which, taken together, make a very satisfactory week's business.

The total number of transactions reported below is 82, with considerations given in 18, and amounting to $1,517.50; corresponding figures for last week were 63, 8 and $804,000, respectively.

The auction room was quiet this week, compared with the activity of the recent past. Nevertheless, despite the fact that many offerings were withdrawn and many more bid in, a million of dollars worth of realty was disposed of. No new tendency was disclosed as regards the market. Vacant lots in active localities found ready takers, and Harlem flats, except where secured by operators at bargain prices, were for the most part bid in. The few parcels that possessed any attraction to investors found actual buyers at prices which the professional element regarded as high. The 5-story 50-foot apartment house at Nos. 203 and 205 West 56th street, near 7th avenue, adjoining the Hotel Grenoble, which sold at voluntary auction for $68,500, suggests the true reason for most of the unsuccessful sales noted in our detailed report of the week. This house some years ago had an annual rent roll of $12,000; at present, if all the apartments were occupied, which they are not, the rents would aggregate $7,900. In too many instances owners who put up properties of this kind have no intention of accepting a bid based on actual returns; if no one in the crowd is foolish enough to pay the sometime intrinsic value, the owner bids the property in, content to hold it a while longer as a speculation. His action has not the slightest signification as regards the general supply of capital available for real estate investment. The only sizable sale during the week was the foreclosure of another of the John Pettit properties—the 7-story office building at the southwest corner of Pearl and Beekman streets. The Hamersley Estate, of which Lady William Beresford is the chief beneficiary, had claims for mortgage and unpaid interest amounting to $148,573, besides $3,502 of unpaid taxes. The property was sold to the Hamersley Estate for $140,000. The price, in view of the "overmortgaged" condition of all the Pettit properties, requires no comment.

The auction sale of the Huntington tract lots by Peter F. Meyer on Tuesday next, promises to be very successful. There is a great demand for the book-maps and the sale is much talked of by builders and operators. As stated last week, part of this tract was sold last spring, and the balance, consisting of 91 choice lots is now to be closed out. Since the last sale there has been considerable building on this tract, which is right in the line of development. The city has spent a great deal of money in this section in completing the street improvements, and building schools, etc. The "L" road and trolley lines afford good travelng facilities. The terms of sale, as will be seen from the advertisement on another page, are liberal, and Title Guarantee and Trust Co, will guarantee titles free of charge to purchasers. Maps and full particulars can be obtained of the auctioneer at No. 111 Broadway.

Richard V. Harnett & Co. announce the auction sale of the holdings of the John Bisco Estate, which will be sold on Wednesday next, 26th inst., by order of the executors, Frank Moss and Thomas Snell. They consist of attractive flats and tenements located between East 13th and East 38th streets, which will be found described in our business pages and to which attention is recommended. Further particulars with maps, etc., can be obtained of the auctioneers at Nos. 71 and 73 Liberty street.

Bryan L. Kennelly calls attention in our advertising pages to the auction sale of the dwelling No. 57 East 67th street; the tenement and stores, No. 346 West 37th street; the leasehold buildings Nos. 352 9th avenue and No. 575 West 30th street, and five Edgecombe avenue lots. Descriptions will be found in the advertisement, and maps and terms of sale can be had of the auctioneer, at No. 66 Liberty street. The day of the sale is Wednesday next, 26th inst.

Attention is called to the important sale of Bronx parcels, which will be conducted by James L. Wells on May 4th, by order of the executors of the estate of Josephine L. Peyton, deceased. The book-maps of this sale contain 132 parcels of improved and unimproved properties, located on 3d, Bathgate, Webster, Brook, Gerard, Jerome, Walton, Creston, and Marion avenues, and on connecting important streets and roads. The terms are liberal, and the sale is to be absolute. The particulars given on another page should have careful attention from would-be realty investors. Book-maps can be obtained from the auctioneer at No. 141 Broadway.

Wm. Cole will sell at auction on Tuesday next, 25th inst., in the Real Estate Exchange, No. 189 Montague street, Brooklyn, the dwelling, No. 415 Pacific street, in the same borough. Particulars can be had of John Dill, Jr., attorney, No. 49 Court street, Brooklyn, and of the auctioneer.

De Selding Brothers have leased the fourth floor of the Liberty st wing of the Singer Building to the National Association of Manufacturers. More than 90 per cent. of the building has been rented, most of the tenants being manufacturers, chiefly of machinery, whose offices were formerly scattered through Liberty and Cortlandt sts.

William J. Roome, in conjunction wth E. A. Cruikshank & Co., has leased the building occupied by Park & Tilford, at the northeast corner of 6th av and 38th st, to Samuel Marx for 21 years, at an aggregate rental of about $200,000. The building will be altered, as stated in another column.

Brooklyn.

While no big transactions have been announced to give prominence to the past week, Brooklyn real estate men feel generally satisfied with the present tendency of the market. The reports indicate a healthy condition of affairs, with more or less activity in all lines of the realty business. The renting season is still at its height and good rentals are being asked and obtained for all classes of houses.

In the auction rooms the week has been one of noticeable activity, and the prices realized have been uniformly good. On Wednesday the remaining holdings of the Bock Estate at Greenpoint were sold under the hammer by Jere Johnson, Jr., & Co. There was brisk competition for nearly all of the property offered. On Thursday, the same auctioneers disposed of a portion of the Ira O. Miller tract in the 8th Ward, opposite Sunset Park. This tract consists of 191 lots and 6 frame houses situated on 41st, 42d, 43d, 44th and 45th streets, and 7th and 8th avenues. Although those acquainted with property in this section considered the prices realized even more than could be expected, the owners were not satisfied, and allowed but 63 lots to be sold. The highest price paid for the strictly vacant property was $730 per lot. This sum was bid by R. H. Wieberg for each of the five lots located on the southeast corner of 41st street and 7th avenue, which were sold as one parcel. These lots have a total frontage of 100 feet on 41st street and 100.2 on 7th avenue. The lowest price was $295 each for two lots each 20x100.2 on the north side of 42d street, 100 feet east of 8th avenue. The prices paid for the other vacant lots ranged between these two figures.

Until within the past two months real estate dealers throughout Brooklyn have complained of the inactivity of the market. The boom which the trades are experiencing seems to have had a beneficial effect on real estate. Mr. John F. James, of John F. James & Son, the old established real estate men, at No. 189 Montague street, said to our representative, that there is considerable evidence of renewed life and vigor in the older sections of Brooklyn. He has, in the last few weeks, received quite a number of good offers for property, and there appears to be many buyers in the market. He says that the time is ripe for a considerable increase in values in Brooklyn realty, and there is every evidence that there will be such an increase this year, even taking into consideration the development of so much suburban property, which does not ordinarily have a beneficial effect on the values in a large city.

On Friday of next week a hearing will be held in Borough Hall for the purpose of receiving petitions for the opening of 36th street, and portions of some of the streets in Bay Ridge. At the same time petitions can be made for the construction of sewers in 10th avenue, 6th avenue, 62d street, and 64th street to New York Bay, and for the paving and grading of these same streets.

REAL ESTATE NOTES

The Ethical Culture Society is the buyer of the plot, 199.10x100, on Central Park West, from 63d to 64th streets. Judge Dugro, the seller, paid $119,800 for the 63d street corner, 100.5x100.

Property owners and residents are petitioning to have the westerly side of Broadway, between 110th and 120th streets, paved with asphalt, the easterly side being now so paved, and the other not.

The plot, 200x100, on the west side of West End avenue, from 79th to 80th streets, sold by Thomas O'Connor last week, was bought by him in 1887 for $77,500; the present selling price is reported to be $175,000. The Army and Navy Club are reported to be the buyers.

Maxwell S. Mannes says that he did not offer to sell his contract for the purchase of the southeast corner of Broadway and 78th street, which he secured at the Eno sale, and states that, unless he decides to accept one of the several offers which have been made him to dispose of the lot with a building loan, he will improve it with a 7-story elevator apartment house.

The city has advertised the sale by auction on May 1st, of the buildings on the site of Jefferson Park, which is located between 111th and 114th streets and 1st avenue and the East River. The terms require that the buildings shall be immediately removed after the sale, in order that the park may be made.

The memorial on taxation, prepared by the Board of Brokers, in conjunction with the other interested organizations, will be forwarded on Monday. The memorial asks the Governor to recommend to the Legislature that the powers of the proposed joint committee on taxation of public franchises be enlarged so as to authorize the committee to submit a revision of the entire tax law.

According to J. Fred. Kernochan, fourteen of the sixteen owners of the proposed Custom House site on Bowling Green have agreed on terms of sale to the Government. The absence abroad of some of the heirs to the estate which owns one of the parcels, and the demand of the owner of another parcel for a higher price, are the only obstacles to an immediate sale at private contract. The prices agreed upon represent an advance of 4% on the awards made in the condemnation proceedings of some half dozen years ago. If all the owners do not come to an understanding before July 1 the Government will begin new condemnation proceedings.

The Long Island Title Guarantee Company, during the construction of the new building, corner of Court and Joralemon streets, will occupy offices at No. 186 Remsen, near Court street. The Long Island Title Guarantee Company is a corporation organized under the insurance laws of the State of New York. This company guarantees titles to real estate in the Boroughs of Manhattan, Brooklyn, and in all the boroughs and counties of Long Island.

The senior member of the Wall street banking house, Emerson, McMillan & Co., was the buyer of the 3-story residence, on lot 36x100, at the north corner of Riverside Drive and 104th street, for which he paid $77,500. The house was erected by the late Prof. Richard S. Bacon, who, in its construction, indulged certain pet theories in architecture and interior decoration without regard to cost. It was built in the form of a castle, from stone quarried in the upper part of Manhattan; and a wood-carver was employed two years in sculpturing the panels in the dining-room, etc. But, although $100,000 was spent upon the house, its architectural effect was anything but pleasing, and the value put upon it in the present transaction was a mere fraction of its original cost, inasmuch as the lot is worth, at least, $56,000. The transaction, by the way, put an end to foreclosure proceedings begun by the Excelsior Savings Bank. The house will be occupied by the purchaser, for which purpose it will undergo extensive alterations.

The remarkable increment in the value of vacant land in 5th avenue, has been frequently discussed since the beginning of the real estate movement in the Central Park section of the avenue, which followed the Carnegie purchases of last fall. In these discussions, however, little or no attention has been paid to the cost of carrying the land. If this cost were always known, the public would probably have to revise its theories somewhat on the subject of speculative profits from unproductive real estate. William J. Roome, whose father, in 1867, bought a plot, 50x100, on the east side of 5th avenue, 50 feet south of 111th street, for $9,900, estimates that, at the rate of 5 per cent., the commercial —not compound—interest on this investment, together with assessments and interest on the same, besides taxes, would bring the total cost of the plot up to $76,493. The north corner of 109th street, 100x100, can be bought to-day for $100,000, while inside lots above 111th street have sold recently at $15,000 per lot. In 1873 the lot on the southeast corner of 5th avenue and 109th street, was sold at auction for $27,000, and the lot adjoining for $18,800. It must be remembered that in 1867 and 1873 prices were based upon a paper currency. But this only makes the loss to the investor of those years in unproductive real estate so much the greater, for, on the resumption of specie payment, the purchasing power of the paper currency rose, while that of land remained the same, except where influenced by improvements.

The Vincent Building, on the southeast corner of Broadway and Duane street, owned by the trustees for John Jacob Astor, is an excellent illustration of modern tendency in the construction and maintenance of office buildings. In elaborateness of service it is not outdone by any existing building of its kind, and it was erected in shorter time than any building of its size in New York City, a circumstance of interest to the real estate financier even more than to the builder. The offices are designed primarily for the convenience of commercial lawyers, to attract whom a law library of 3,000 volumes has been brought together on the fifteenth floor for the free use of tenants. Elevators run the night through, towels, and hot and cold water are supplied in every office, and there is a bath on every floor. An intercommunicating telephone system, electric clocks in the principal rooms, and messenger calls and fire alarms in every office are additional elements in a service, which, with exception of the telephones, is comprised under the head of rent. According to A. Milton Napier, who had charge of the constructional work, the concrete foundation was started on June 0, last; the first brick was laid August 26, and the last on December 24; the first tenant moved in on Thursday, ninety-five per cent. of the building has been rented, though at the expense, to some extent, of modern offices in the neighborhood, which, while charging the same rent, do not give the same service.

The "Notices to Property-Owners," including the "Hearings for the Coming Week," and kindred matter, will be found at the head of our technical records, which begin with page 721.

CONCERNING REAL ESTATE AGENTS AND BROKERS.

L. V. Southack & Co., real estate brokers, whose offices are located at Nos. 396-398 Broadway, have opened an uptown branch at No. 251 5th avenue, corner of 28th street, where they will give special attention to the sale and rental of real estate in the uptown districts. The residential districts in the 5th and Madison avenue sections will receive special effort on their part, and for the better furtherance of that purpose Mr. Eugene Southack, who has associated himself with the firm, will have entire charge of the new offices. Mr. Southack, himself a resident for many years on 5th avenue, is entirely familiar with this section, and his long connection with real estate interests will no doubt prove of value to him and his clients. The firm have telephone connection.

The long established and reliable firm of E. H. Ludlow & Co. have removed their offices from the Trinity Building, No. 111 Broadway, to the Boreel Building, No. 117 Broadway, where they have commodious and easily accessible offices.

J. E. Briggs, broker and agent, who for over seven years has been located at the southwest corner of Columbus avenue and 86th street, will remove about May 1 to No. 432 Columbus avenue, adjoining the southwest corner of 81st street.

THE BUILDING TRADES CLUB DECENNIAL

Preparations for the celebration of the 10th anniversary of the Building Trades' Club, next Monday evening, have been completed, with the exception of some minor details, and the affair promises to be the most successful of the Club's reunions. Surviving original members are earnestly requested by the management to be present, as indeed, are all members. The participants are to be restricted to members only, the idea being to make it a family party—a party individually and collectively intimately interested in the birthday that is being feted.

The "Notices to Property-Owners," including the "Hearings for the Coming Week," and kindred matter, will be found at the head of our technical records, which begin with page 721.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICK.—The arrivals of Hudson Rivers this week amounted to about sixty barges, with all taken as fast as they came in. The conditions are the same as last week; $5.75@$6.25 is the range of price.

LIME.—The demand for Rockland is brisk, and arrivals are quickly cleaned up. Although prices have been stationary for a time the market has shown increasing strength. Common is 85c. and finishing 90@95c., with but little coming in. State is 70@75c., and Jointa 90c.

CEMENT.—The condition of the market is most satisfactory; prices are firm, and the supply keeps up with the increased demand. Dealers are satisfied with the volume of business at prevailing prices and do not contemplate making any advance for the present. Rosendale is 80@95c., and Portland $2.00@2.10.

LATH.—The supply is just about sufficient to meet the demand, and Eastern spruce sell at $2.50, at which figure they are likely to remain as a further increase would create a more active demand for the Northern pine lath, which sell about 10c. cheaper.

LUMBER.—The demand for lumber seems to be increasing with great rapidity. In hard woods the stocks are greatly reduced. The mills are cutting yellow pine night and day and all firms have orders more than sufficient for several months to come. The mills have their poplar logs, and an easier market in that line is expected. Orders for white pine are being turned away by the Michigan mills, which have all the orders they can handle.

NAILS.—There has been an advance in wire nails this week to $2.20 for car lots f. o. b. mill, Pittsburg base; $2.35 on dock New York, and $2.60 for small lots out of store. A sympathetic advance in cut nails is looked for, but at present they remain $1.75 for carload lots, jobbers, f. o. b. mill, Pittsburg base; less than carload lots, $1.80; to others than jobbers, $1.80 and $1.95; small lots from store, $2.10.

GLASS.—The discounts on window glass are very unsettled. The American Glass Co. has advanced prices to jobbers 10% on single, 25% on double up to 40 ins., and 15% above 40 ins. Jobbers will undoubtedly make a corresponding advance during the coming week, but at the time of going to press it is impossible to give the discounts owing to the fluctuations. The discount for plate is 80%, and French, 80 and 10%.

NAVAL STORES.—A decline is recorded for spirits of turpentine to 42½c. for Southerns and 43c. for machines, with prospects of still greater falling off in the next few days. Some futures have been sold for the middle of June at 36c. Early this week the supply sank to the lowest recorded for years. Tar is steady at $1.75 for regulars and $3.25 for oil barrels. Pitch remains at $1.65@1.70.

OIL.—Linseed oil is quoted at 49c. for 5-bbl. lots or more, and 50c. for less than 5-bbl. lots, with an advance of 2c. per gallon for refined. Calcutta remains firm at 58c. per gallon. The price of seed has advanced.

LEAD.—There is no change in prices from our last report.

PAINTS.—Dealers are enjoying the lively trade usual at this season, and although difficulty is experienced in filling all orders promptly prices remain practically the same.

OF INTEREST TO THE BUILDING TRADES.

The Masons' Arbitration Board will hold a meeting at the rooms of the Building Trades' Club, Thursday, April 27, at 8 p. m.

T. Cockerill & Son, masons and builders, removed their office this week to the third floor of the Bradley Building, No. 224 4th evenue, southwest corner of 18th street.

The Sheet and Metal Roofers will hold executive meetings in the Building Trades' Club rooms, on Monday, April 24, at 3:30 p. m., and on Friday, April 28, at 8 p. m.

Andrew Carnegie has agreed to give $1,750,000 for the erection of an addition to the Carnegie Library building at Pittsburg, to be two and a half times the size of the present structure.

The Youngstown Bridge Co. notify contractors and others that they have removed to the Syndicate Building, No. 21 Park Row.

T. J. Reilly, No. 170 5th avenue, will remove to No. 142 5th avenue on May 12.

The branch office of the Building Department at 146th street and 3d avenue, is to be given up on May 1, and its business transacted at the main office. The department expects to move on May 1 from its present quarters, corner 18th street and 4th avenue, to the old New York Athletic Club building, at 55th street and 6th avenue.

The following resolutions were passed by the trustees of the Building Material Exchange at the regular meeting, April 12, 1899: "That the Exchange hours be 1 to 3 p. m. from May 1, 1899, but to remain the same as at present until that time. That rule No. 9 be changed to read 3 o'clock p. m. instead of 3.30 p. m. That section 1 of rule 9 be changed to read 2.50 o'clock p. m. instead of 3.20 o'clock p. m."

Another effort is to be made to get rid of the 235,000 cubic yards of stone owned by the Government and stored on leased ground near Spuyten Duyvil. Major H. M. Adams has charge of the matter. Bids will be opened at his office in the Army Building, Whitehall street, on April 29. Major Adams is quoted as saying that the stone must be got rid of even if it costs something to have it taken away. The annual cost for rent of the storage ground is $2,000.

The Society of Architectural Iron Manufacturers held their annual meeting on Monday evening last, after which a banquet was given at the Savoy Hotel. Among the invited guests present were Andrew Carnegie, ex-Mayor Edward Cooper, Percival Roberts, of Philadelphia; Watts Cook and H. L. Waterman. The following are the newly elected officers of the society: John Cooper, President; Henry A. Wilson, Vice-President; John J. Radley, Treasurer; William J. Fryer, Secretary; Trustees, Wm. H. McCord, Wm. H. Van Tassel, Chas. H. A. Cuny, J. M. Cornell, E. F. Milliken, W. A. Garrigues, Thomas Dimond; Delegate to United Building Trades, Wm. H. McCord; Delegate to Board of Examiners, Wm. J. Fryer.

ANOTHER LESSON.

The fire which occurred on Blackwell's Island last Thursday must lead us to the conclusion that chance has taken occasion to give us a series of object lessons on the necessity of making our buildings fireproof. The first of this series was the burning of the Windsor Hotel, with its attendant horrors. A week later the destruction of the Andrews family and home. Then the loss of Mr. Vanderbilt's "Idle Hour." And finally, to complete the list, the conflagration of a public building—that on Blackwell's Island on Thursday. Two of these fires involved great loss of life, and, had the hospital of the Penitentiary caught fire at night, we should probably have had a repetition of the Windsor disaster. This list of disasters, embracing, as it does, every class of buildings, furnishes convincing evidence of the necessity of fireproofing structures of every sort. Everybody will admit this. The only difficulty, they will say, lies in the change involved thereby in building materials. The mason, they think, must supplant the carpenter, and with this a revolution in the construction of buildings of the ordinary class will be necessitated. Nothing of the kind is really requisite. By the use of fireproof wood the carpenter may be retained, and all that goes with him—timber construction, hard wood trim, cabinet finish, etc. Properly treated, by the Electric Fireproofing Co.'s process, all forms of timber may be made perfectly fireproof. This process has brought to a successful issue a long series of attempts to achieve the obvious—for every one has seen that non-inflammable would be the last word of fireproofing. In Europe this American invention has been received with extraordinary favor, not only by several governments in the construction of their warships, but by the public as well in all classes of building. The U. S. Navy Department has adopted it in all the men-of-war now building. Our municipal officials must begin at once to follow the lead of the national authorities. It is their obvious duty to protect the lives of those committed to their care or custody—in schools and asylums, in prisons and all other city buildings. We were fortunately "let off" with a mere warning in the fire on Blackwell's Island on Thursday. If the lesson is not learned promptly the next visitation may be attended by more disastrous consequences.

TRADE NOTES.

ARTIFICIAL STONE WORKERS TAKE LARGER QUARTERS.

A constantly increasing business has led the firm of Pietrowski & Keller, contractors for artificial stone sidewalks and cellars, to secure the premises Nos. 418 to 424 East 91st street, where they have removed their offices, yard and stables. At the new address they also have excellent storage facilities, and will be better able than heretofore to serve their many customers. Contracts recently completed embrace a warehouse at 131st street and Park avenue, for Builder Chas. A. Cowen; five dwellings at West End avenue and 102d street, for Builder James Livingston, and twenty houses on Dawson and 156th streets for Messrs. George F. Johnson & Son. Messrs. Pietrowski & Keller's out-of-town office continues at No. 24 Purvis street, Long Island City.

IMPROVED PLASTIC SLATE ROOFING.

In addition to recovering the roofs of numerous apartments and tenement houses, stables and factories, the well-known firm of J. Casmento & Co., of 160 5th avenue, have recently done the following new roofs: No. 158 Clinton place; 129th street, southwest corner of 5th avenue, cement work and No. 1 plastic slate roof; 95th street, corner of Riverside Drive; and Central Park West, corner of 108th street, the latter for Hallahan & Ahearn, builders. Messrs. Casmento guarantee their plastic slate roof to withstand the action of the weather for a number of years,and to keep solid, hard and dry.

EXPERT INSPECTION OF BUILDING MATERIALS.

All of the cement used in the foundations of the Clark mansion, at 77th street and 5th avenue, Lord, Hewlett & Hull, architects, Engineering Contract Company, contractor, was thoroughly and cally tested by Dr. Charles F. McKenna, the well-known chemist systematically tested by Dr. Charles F. McKenna, the well-known chemist and testing engineer. Much satisfaction has been expressed by the architect with the results of his work, and they will continue the inspection of all the material to be used in the erection of this mansion.

A GOOD PROSPECT.

Building in the suburbs in the Metropolitan District to all appearances is on the boom, and from what we can learn from the builders, it is not a "paper boom." To meet the advance in lumber and iron, higher prices are being quoted, and among the builders who cater to the best class of trade, there is a well-founded opinion that these advances will be accepted. Mr. J. Doll, of No. 48 West 22d street, whose specialty is buildings of this class, is doing a great deal of figuring on these lines, and in his opinion there is every indication of a splendid business year ahead.

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title, and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each Convenance, thus 2 : 482, denotes that the property is in section 2 block 482.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded. When the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

PROJECTED BUILDINGS.

THE LAWS AFFECTING BUILDING.

There has not been any book on the market containing all the lawe and regulations relating to building in New York City; yet the need of such a volume is plain enough, because a building from its foundation to its final demolition is subject not only to the building law, but to special regulations of the building department concerning passenger elevators, fire-escapes, light and ventilation and plumbing. There is also a law limiting the height of dwelling houses and another requiring temporary flooring. There are the tenement house and lodging house laws, laws relating to the extinction and prevention of fires and explosives, and the storing of combustible materials in buildings. Moreover, there are very important fire department regulations which must be observed in the installation of electrical apparatus, and there are, of course, all the regulations of the department of public works concerning Croton water rates and the use of water, the opening and refilling of trenches and restoring of street pavements; in addition to ordinances pertaining to the inspection of steam boilers. The architect, builder, building material man and real estate owner must be familiar with these laws and regulations; if he is not, he suffers. They are now all gathered together (with a directory of architects for the first time in one volume, illustrated, indexed and supplied for $2.50. Record and Guide, Publishers, 14 and 16 Vesey street.

The first name is that of the owner; ar't stands for architect; m'n for mason; c'r for carpenter, and b'r for builder.

When character of roof is not mentioned, it is to be understood that the roof is to be of tin.

MURESCO

Is a perfect material for all kinds of interior whitening and tinting. It is better than kalsomine or whitewash, less expensive than paint, more sanitary than wall paper. It produces perfect results, whether used for fine decorations or rough work, and is economical in either case. Covers well, works easy, will not rub off, crack or peel. Made in white and colors. Send for color card and booklet.

A Talk About Business Prospects.

Mr. Garrigues, of Levering & Garrigues, reports the business outlook as brighter than it has been for some time. They are doing considerable figuring on large contracts.

Mr. Spencer, of the Gorham Manufacturing Co., says that in all branches of their business the prospects for the coming year are very bright. He holds that there is a far greater stability in business to-day than there has been for a long while; collections are better, and everything points to a very successful year.

This feeling of good times ahead is evidenced all along the line. All branches of trade seem to be affected by it, and but very few complaints are heard. Mr. Poulson, of the Hecla Iron Works, also reports a very bright outlook. They are busy in their shops and are doing a great deal of figuring upon advanced prices, and confidently expect to get their share of the work.

"It is almost universally conceded in our line of business," said Mr. Billings, of Post & McCord, "that there is every evidence of a great deal of activity this year. From the amount of work we have already contracted for, and that in sight, we will have all the business we can handle for the next nine months. In fact, we feel that there is so much business in sight—of which we expect to get our share—it will not be as necessary for us to go into the market this year to such an extent as it was last."

Mr. Posthauer, of Posthauer & Dichting, reports that they are very busy, having now on hand all the work they can readily handle. They have just closed contracts for the building of I. L. Smith, 129th street and Lenox avenue, and also for eighteen houses on Wendover avenue and 106th street. The market is better and they are able to get better prices. Even good people are compelled to pay spot cash to insure delivery of iron, there being a great scarcity. Mr. Posthauer thinks prices will advance in the next four weeks. On the whole, he thinks this will be the largest year in iron ever known.

Mr. Boyd, of Black & Boyd Manufacturing Co., in conversation with our representative recently said that their business shows a marked increase of at least fifty per cent. over last year. In March they did a larger business than ever before, and the prospects for an increase in the same ratio—taking into consideration the amount of work they are figuring on—are very bright indeed.

Mr. Rollins, of Bramhall, Deane Co., reports a very bright outlook for trade. They are doing a fair amount of estimating, and are getting their share of the business.

Mr. Dickinson, of the Boynton Furnace Co., says they are busy at present and are doing a fair amount of estimating. While it is yet early in the season for their line of work, they feel that the indications are that there will be a considerable increase in business.

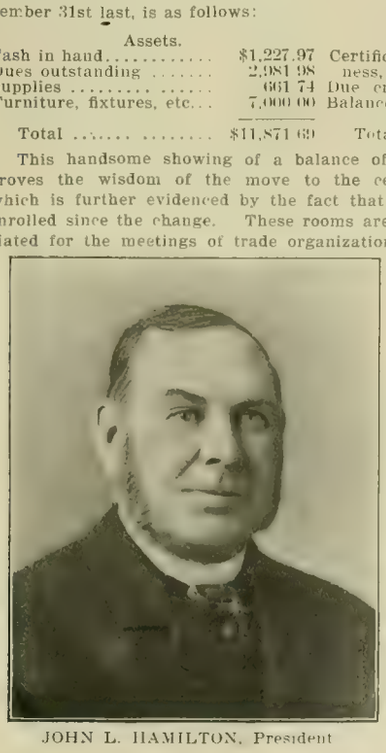
The Union Stove Works report a very bright outlook. They have been forced to meet the rise in prices of materials by an advance in price for manufactured goods, which has been accepted by builders and contractors. Collections are good, and business to-day is on a decidedly stronger basis.

The Building Trades Club.



On Monday evening last, the Building Trades' Club celebrated the tenth anniversary of its foundation by a fraternal gathering in the club-rooms at No. 1123 Broadway, which was entertained by appropriate addresses and an elaborate programme of amusements. From beginning to end this function was a pronounced success—typical of the history of the Club — and thoroughly appreciated and enjoyed by the large number of members who filled the spacious rooms now occupied by the Club.

An account of this celebration will be found below. It is not merely as a social gathering that it has importance and deserves the special attention given to it, because the Club has had many social gatherings, but because it shows that when the superstructure of the Building Trades Club was raised, its creators, like good builders as they were, placed it on secure foundations. Its inception grew out of the fact that changing methods of business had left the building interests without an organization capable of presenting their social sides and giving them united public representation. There were more prophesies of its failure than of its success, but time has sustained the view of the founders and given permanent establishment to the only form of organization by which so diversified an interest as the building trades can be held together for mutual protection and usefulness. How diversified this interest is and how thoroughly it is represented in the Club is shown by the fact that the membership is gathered from forty-nine branches of the trade, counting all forms of iron and of the stone businesses each as one only.

The history of the Club has been written before, and is ably summarized in the address delivered by Mr. Stephen M. Wright, and given below, so that it is not necessary to go over that ground here. It should be stated, however, that the Club has in the Townsend Building, on the northwest corner of Twenty-fifth Street and Broadway, a spacious floor, containing large assembly rooms with connecting committee rooms, a private dining-room, café, a large open and spacious dining-room, billiard-room, smoking-room, ladies' parlor and restaurant, complete kitchen, and the usual accompanying et ceteras. By an arrangement peculiar to this Club, all the rooms can be thrown into one, and afford an ideal place for festive gatherings. It has a paid force of 15 attendants, and is supervised by a thoroughly practical and experienced House Committee, consisting of the following gentlemen: Stephen M. Wright, chairman; Ronald Taylor, secretary; Alfred Beinhauer, William R. Clarke, Leonard K. Prince, Charles A. Cowen and Frank M. Weeks, ex-officio. A very important feature is the noon-day table d'hoté meal, which brings together the membership between the hours of 12 and 2, and makes the club-rooms just as effectively a meeting place for business as if they were a trade exchange pure and simple. The social side of the Club takes the form of informal gatherings at the will of any number of the members, large or small; "stags" and "smokers," that are given at intervals and always largely attended; annual outings, which are also highly popular. Financially the Club is strong. When the removal, from No. 117 East Twenty-third Street to the Townsend Building was decided upon, two years ago, the Club was free of debt, but then $5,000 were raised on certificates of indebtedness to meet the expenses of removal, and arrangement and furnishing of the new quarters. Of this $3,000 were paid off prior to January 1st last, through the operations of the sinking fund. The condensed balance sheet for December 31st last, is as follows:

Assets.		Liabilities.
Cash in hand	$1,227.97	Certificates of indebtedness, with interest	$2,195.83
Dues outstanding	2,981 98	Due creditors	1,880.17
Supplies	661 74	Balance	7,795.69
Furniture, fixtures, etc.	7,000 00
Total	$11,871 69	Total	$11,871.69

This handsome showing of a balance of $7,795.69 over all liabilities proves the wisdom of the move to the central location on Broadway, which is further evidenced by the fact that 106 new members have been enrolled since the change. These rooms are being more and more appreciated for the meetings of trade organizations, whose members find there that seclusion and confidence necessary for the proper conduct of delicate negotiations, either among themselves or with the labor organizations. Since July 1, 1897, the date of the removal to the Townsend Building, 406 regular meetings of employers' associations identified with the building industry have been held in these rooms, besides many more of committee and sub-committee meetings, and conferences with representatives of labor, plainly showing the appreciation that the facilities of the club for these purposes receives. In the further execution of its comprehensive duties towards the building trades, the Club has Committees on Legislation and Ordinances, which carefully watch matters affecting building interests at Albany and in the Municipal Assembly, and are able to render valuable service in aiding the passage of good legislation, and in preventing that that would be injurious. Any one who is of good moral character, who is an employer of workmen, or has his individual capital invested in a business connected with the building interest, is eligible for membership of the Club. For what it offers and for a metropolitan club, the fees and dues are very small indeed. The illustrations of the interiors of the first and of the latest club-rooms, serve to show not only the material progress made by the Club, but the high-class of the accommodations it now offers to members. The familiar liniaments of the present able President, the veteran, John L. Hamilton, and of the genial and painstaking secretary and treasurer, William K. Fertig, will be perceived with pleasure.

JOHN L. HAMILTON, President

The gathering last Monday opened with enthusiasm, and was continued to its close in the same spirit. There was not a dull moment the whole evening. All the rooms of the Club were thrown into one, so that the members could move with freedom; and, instead of the restraint of a set programme carried out on a stage before which the audience must sit the whole evening, the various numbers on the programme were presented wherever the party might be massed for the time being and in an easy untheatrical way that made them all the more enjoyable. Refreshments were served throughout the evening and the wine-cup circulated with freedom tempered by discretion. Roland Taylor, who had charge of the entertainment, very successfully gauged the tastes of the audience, bearing in mind its proper requirements, and the merry side of the affair. Sciarretta's Neapolitan Quartette, mandolinists and singers; the Eureka Tria of real negroes, with banjo, mandolin and guitar; and a company of cake walkers, sustained the lighter and gayer part of the programme. The last mentioned company consisted of a master of the ceremonies and three male and three female colored people who by their fantastic attire and playful antics, were very successful—as were also the judges—Messrs. Wm. H. Sayward, Samuel I. Acken and Augustus Meyers, who may be said to have formed part of the show, in that their serio-comic criticisms and findings contributed not a little to the success of this piece of merrymaking. Prof. Krieger, "The Merry Wizard," created lots of fun by his clever sleight-of-hand The Metropolitan Male Quartette and the voluntary and artistic efforts of the well-known singer and member of the iron trade, S. Fisher Miller, furnished substantial vocal efforts that were appreciated as much in their way as were the lighter numbers.

WILLIAM K. FERTIG, Secretary.

At an early period of the evening the company was called together by the President to give formal expression to their satisfaction at finding that the Club had aged so well and found itself prosperous with increasing years. The participants in this celebration were the following:

John L. Hamilton,	A. S. Dickinson,	John J. Roberts,

Mr. Hamilton expressed his personal satisfaction at seeing so large and representative a gathering, and particularly, in noting so many yellow ribbons or badges by which original members, or "founders," as they were called, were distinguished. He said the Club was strong and had money with which to meet its indebtedness, but at the same time they would be happy to have those connected with the building interests who were not members, come in and share with them the many benefits and privileges of the Club.

Secretary Fertig read a dispatch from Mr. John S. Stevens, of Philadelphia, President of the National Association of Builders, who was expected to be present, stating that it was impossible for him to come, and conveying an expression of his regards to "all the boys." Mr. Fertig also read a letter of regret from Mr. Henry W. Redfield, the first secretary, rejoicing in the success that had attended the effort to found a building trades' club.

Mr. Stephen M. Wright read the following address reviewing the purposes and history of the Club:

Mr. President and Gentlemen:

I certainly rejoice in the privilege of saying a few words to you on this occasion, to be memorable in the history of the Club, for among the various organizations that I have labored for, during the past decade, no one have I felt prouder to be identified with than this Club, because I believe it to Rules for Use of Acetylene Gas.

The Committee on Lighting, Heating and Patents, of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, has adopted a code of rules to govern the installation of acetylene gas apparatus. We print these rules below, as they are of especial interest to those installing acetylene lighting apparatus, and engineers who are working on the design of apparatus for the generation of the gas.

The use of liquid acetylene, or gas generated therefrom, is absolutely prohibited. The permission to generate and use acetylene in insured premises shall be subject to the following rules:

It is desirable that all acetylene gas machines shall be installed outside of the building insured, but special permission may be granted in the discretion of tariff associations having jurisdiction to install machines inside the building under special circumstances, such permission to be given in writing, and shall be subject to the following rules:

(1) Must be made of iron or steel, and in a manner and of material to insure stability and durability.

(2) Must have sufficient carbide capacity to supply the full number of burners during the maximum lighting period.

(3) Must be uniform and automatically regulated in its action, producing gas only as immediate consumption demands, and so designed that gas is generated without excessive heating at all stages of the process.

(4) Apparatus not requiring pressure regulators must be so arranged that the gas pressure cannot exceed 3 ins. water column.

(5) Must be provided with an escape pipe which will operate in case of the over-production of gas, and also an attachment acting as an escape or relief in case of abnormal pressure in the machine, and which will carry such excess gas through an escape pipe of at least ¾-in. internal diameter to a suitable point outside of building, discharging at least 12 ft. above ground level, and provided with an approved hood.

(6) Apparatus requiring pressure regulator must be so arranged that the gas pressure cannot exceed 3 lbs. per sq. in. Such apparatus must be provided with additional safety blow-off attachment located between the pressure regulator and the service pipes and discharging to the outer air, the same as provided for in Rule 5.

(7) Must be so arranged that when being charged the back flow of gas from the holder will be automatically prevented, or so arranged that it is impossible to charge the apparatus without first closing the supply pipe to holder, or to other generating chambers, if any.

(8) Must be so arranged as to contain the minimum amount of air when first started or recharged, and no device or attachment facilitating or permitting mixture of air with the gas, prior to consumption, except at the burners, shall be allowed.

Note.—Owing to the explosive properties of acetylene mixed with air, machines should be so designed that such mixtures are impossible.

(9) No valves or pet-cocks opening into the room from gas-holding part or parts, the draining of which will allow an escape of gas, shall be permitted; and the condensation from all parts of the apparatus must be automatically removed without the use of valves or mechanical working parts.

Note.—Such valves and pet-cocks are not essential; their presence increases the possibility of leakage. The automatic removal of condensation from the apparatus is essential to the safe working of the machine.

(10) The water supply to generator must be so arranged that gas will be generated long enough in advance of the exhaustion of the supply already in the gas-holder to allow of the using of all lights without exhausting such supply.

Note.—This provides for the continuous working of the apparatus under all conditions of water feed and carbide charge, and it obviates the extinction of lights through intermittent action of the machine.

(11) No carbide chamber of over 25 lbs. capacity shall be allowed in any machine where water is introduced in small quantities, or where the contact of water with carbide is intermittent.

Note.—This tends to reduce the danger of overheating, and provides for the division of the carbide charges in machines of these types of large capacity.

(12) Generator must be connected with the gas-holder in such manner that it will, at all times, give open connection either to the gas-holder or to the blow-off pipe into the outer air.

Note.—This prevents dangerous pressure within or the escape of gas from generating chamber.

(13) Must be so designed that the residuum will not clog or affect the working of the machine, and can conveniently be handled and removed.

(14) Covers to generators must be provided with secure fastenings to hold them properly in place, and those relying on a water seal must be submerged in at least 12 ins. of water. Water seal chambers for covers depending on a water seal must be 1½ ins. wide and 15 ins. deep, excepting those depending upon the filling of the seal chambers for the generation of gas, where 9 ins. will be sufficient.

(15) Holder must be of sufficient capacity to contain all gas generated after all lights have been extinguished.

Note.—If the holder is too small and blows off frequently after lights are extinguished, there is a waste of gas. This may suggest improper working of the apparatus and encourage tampering.

(16) The bell portion must be provided with a substanti u to its upward movement, center guide preferred, and a s act ing about 1 in. above the blow-off point.

Note.—This tends to insure the proper action of the bell and decrease the liability of escaping gas.

(17) A space of at least 3 ins. must be allowed between the sides of the tank and the bell.

(18) All water seals must be so arranged that the water level may be readily seen and maintained.

(19) Gas-holders constructed upon the gasometer principle must be so arranged that when the gas bell is filled to its maximum its lip or lower edge shall at all times be submerged in at least 9 ins. of water.

(20) The supply of water to the generator for generating purposes shall not be taken from the water seal of any gas-holder constructed on the gasometer principle.

Note.—This provides for the retention of the proper level of water in the generator.

(21) The apparatus shall be capable of withstanding fire from outside causes without falling apart or allowing the escape of gas in volume.

Note.—This prevents the use of joints in the apparatus relying entirely upon solder.

(22) Gage glasses, the breakage of which would allow escape of gas, shall not be permitted.

(23) Where purifiers are installed, they must conform to the general rules for the construction of other apparatus and allow the free passage of gas.

(24) The use of mercury seals is prohibited.

Note.—Mercury has been found unreliable as a seal in acetylene apparatus.

(25) Construction must be such that liquid seals shall not become thickened by the deposit of lime or other foreign matter.

(26) Apparatus must be constructed so that accidental siphoning of the water is impossible.

(27) Flexible tubing, swing joints, packed unions, springs, chains, pulleys, stuffing boxes and lead or fusible piping must not be used on apparatus, except where the failure of the part will not vitally affect the working or the safety of the machine.

(28) There shall be plainly marked on each machine the maximum number of lights it is designed to supply and the amount of carbide necessary for a single charge.

To be approved, acetylene generators must conform to the foregoing standard, and plans and specifications in detail of such apparatus must be submitted to the insurance organization having jurisdiction over the territory in which such apparatus is to be installed, for approval by an inspector duly authorized by the ..... Association, with whom a copy of such plans and specifications must be filed. If the plans are approved, a special examination of the generating apparatus will be made at the expense of the applicant, and if it is found to be in compliance with the standard, a certificate of approval will be issued.

CALCIUM CARBIDE.

(1) In no case shall calcium carbide be stored in bulk.

(2) Calcium carbide must be packed in screwed-top, water-tight metal packages, having all seams lock-jointed and soldered. They shall contain not over 125 lbs. of carbide, and each package must be conspicuously marked "Calcium Carbide, Keep Dry." The packages must be of sufficient strength to insure the handling of the same without rupture, and they must be kept under cover at all times.

WARRANTED.

(1) That the generator shall be charged, and calcium carbide handled by daylight only;

(2) That no direct fireheat or artificial light shall be allowed in the room containing the apparatus;

(3) That no calcium carbide shall be kept in the building where this policy covers;

(4) That no greater number of lights shall be installed than the maximum for which the machine is rated;

(5) That no change shall be made in the installation without the written consent of the insurance company indorsed thereon.

CAUTIONS.

Calcium carbide should be kept in water-tight metal cans, by itself, outside of any insured building, under lock and key, and where it is not exposed to the weather. A regular time should be set aside for attending to and charging the apparatus during daylight hours only.

In charging generating chambers, clean all residuum carefully from the containers, and remove it at once from the building. Separate the unexhausted carbide, if any, from the mass, and return it to the container, adding new carbide as required. Be careful never to fill container over half full, as it is important to allow for the swelling of carbide when it comes in contact with the water. Never place carbide into the containers until all residuum has been carefully removed.

Water tanks and water seals must always be kept filled with clean water.

Where apparatus is not intended for use throughout the year, all water must be removed at the end of season. Never use a lighted match, lamp, candle or any open light near the machine.

BILLIARD-ROOM OF BUILDING TRADES' CLUB, No. 1123 Broadway

have a grander and nobler purpose than any other—that of elevating and dignifying one of the most responsible and important commercial interests in this city.

I am asked to briefly recite some of the most important events in its early history, and while I am aware that festive occasions like this should not be marred by the recital of dry details or elaborate statistics, yet I cannot refrain from saying so much, as will at least give proper credit to the early pioneers in the cause of establishing harmonious principles of action, enabling various sections of the country to deal with questions of common interest, upon the same general basis, as well as to socially unite the prominent builders of the country, into one common band of friendly intercourse.

To the Master Builders' Association of Boston, is due the credit of initiating the movement among the builders, which resulted in the formation of a central body, representing the Association of Builders in various cities of the country. For nearly a year it labored along this line, by correspondence and otherwise, until it had created a sufficient interest, to justify the calling of what was called a "Preliminary Conference," at Boston, in January, 1887. To this representatives of about twelve organizations responded. From New York, Mr. John J. Tucker and Mr. Marc Eidlitz attended as representatives of the Mason Builders' Association.

The result of this conference was the calling of a convention for the formation of a National Association of Employers in the various trades that have to do with the construction of buildings, which was held in Chicago, in March of the same year, at which over twelve cities were represented—New York this time by the following delegation from the Mechanics' and Traders' Exchange: A. J. Campbell, A. G. Bogert, John McGlensey, John Byrnes, Marc Eidlitz and John J. Tucker. The mention of these names is a sufficient indication that New York at once became prominent in the formation of the National Association of Builders, and from that time on the Mechanics' and Traders' Exchange has always been represented at every convention.

In the following year it met at Cincinnati, and then in turn at Philadelphia; and while as I say, New York has always been present at the conventions, yet they being held in the West it was inconvenient for very many to attend; but the convention in Philadelphia, being so convenient, attracted a large number from this city in addition to the regular delegates from the Exchange, and thus, many more were brought in closer touch with the National Association, and better realized the material benefit to be derived from its efforts.

It was while in Philadelphia, in the enjoyment of the well known hospitalities of that City of Brotherly Love,that it dawned upon those present that no suitable organization existed in this city, to properly entertain the National Association, should it at any time select this city as its place of meeting, and here it may be said the idea of a club originated, because the subject of the need of such was freely canvassed among those present in Philadelphia—and some say even now, that the Club really dates from a gathering of genial spirits at the Continental Hotel of that city.

But the obstacle to overcome was the fact, that the Mechanics' and Traders' Exchange being the affiliate body of the National Association must naturally assume to be the "host," and therefore the project must eminate from that body; consequently, the committee named by the President was to consider matter connected with the advancement of the interest of the Exchange, and the making of proper preparations for the holding of the convention of the National Association in this city. Those constituting this committee should ever be remembered as the institutors of this Club. They were: Marc Eidlitz, chairman; Henry W. Redfield, secretary; Samuel I. Acken, Frank E. Conover, Gustavus Isaacs, John J. Roberts, William C. Smith, William H. Hurst, Isaac E. Hoagland, A. J. Campbell, Richard Deeves, John McGlensey, John J. Tucker, Charles A. Cowen and Thomas Mulry.

The many meetings and conferences of this committee resulted in the production of a code of by-laws which was unanimously adopted at a meeting held at the Hotel Brunswick on the 24th of April, 1889, and thus the Club was fully organized and that event is the cause of the celebration to-night.

I desire to recall the names of the forty who enrolled themselves as members of the Club during the first year of its existence, because I realize as do also all here who have upon them the yellow badge, the trials and tribulations they then underwent, being marked for condemnation by so many who looked with disfavor and almost ridicule upon the idea of a social organization among the builders. But the best answer to the captious and contentious spirit then displayed is this gathering here to-night.

Monthly meetings were held from this on until October of that year, when a permanent habitation was secured on the parlor floor of the spacious old dwelling, No. 20 East Twenty-first Street. The rooms were decorated and inexpensively furnished, as the movement was at the best, an experiment; and on the 26th of November formal exercises celebrated the opening of the rooms, followed by an address from William H. Sayward.

During the early existence of the Club it mainly devoted itself to the purpose for which it was originally intended, and so well did it perform its task, that it is yet quoted as the ideal entertainer of the National Association; and no one from this city has ever attended a subsequent convention, without being made to feel, by those from other cities, their appreciation of the labors put forth by the members of the Club during the memorable week in February, 1891.

With the real work of the Club accomplished, there was no talk of "closing up," but rather, the experience, while a revelation to most of its members, led to the firm conviction that the building trades had acquired a new dignity not to be lightly discarded; but rather, on the other hand, increased and extended by means of the social functions.

Once having mingled thoroughly in friendly intercourse, members found it not only pleasant but profitable, and were not willing to part with the privilege. To provide for this condition, and the demand for increased accommodation, the entire building, No. 117 East Twenty-third Street, was leased for a term of years, and a "house warming" given on the 25th of June, 1891. I trust I may be pardoned a personal allusion at this point, for to my mind, too much credit can never be accorded to the official board of 1891, who freely obligated themselves as responsible, not alone for the largely increased rent, but the indebtedness incurred in furnishing the new house; for it must be remembered, that even then the movement was but an experiment which might fail with the receding of the excitement attending the preparation for the convention,and besides there was no certainty of its future success, for as yet quite a large proportion of the builders were inclined to look somewhat with disfavor upon the movement, particularly those wedded to the idea, that builders' bodies were for purely commercial purposes only.

Mr. President, I desire to refer to the name of one to whom, above all others perhaps, we are indebted for the firm foundation upon which this structure was erected. Right well do I remember, and so do others who are present remember him who tranquilly seated at the head of the table and whose name was first recorded on the bond. He it was who said: "Let us all stand together, firmly and determinedly to make this a success." He did not live to reap the reward of his labors, and we owe him a great debt of gratitude; therefore, I think it is proper that we rise and silently pay a tribute of respect to our first president, Marc Eidlitz.

At the signal of President Hamilton, the assemblage arose and reverently complied with the speaker's request, after which Mr. Wright then continued as follows:

The six years passed in the Twenty-third Street club-house were those of continued activity and increasing usefulness to the building trades, until, yielding to the rapidly growing policy of having all the club features grouped in one large floor space, these rooms were secured and opened to the use of the Club in July, 1897.

Thus I have, for fear of your impatience, rapidly sketched the history of the Club. In doing so I have omitted many facts of interest, which should be mentioned, if time permitted, as best exhibiting the real aims of the Club, such as its continuous loyalty to the National Association, endeavoring always to emphatically advocate the adoption of all its principles, and endorsing its efforts of improving the business methods of the trade; again, its persistent and determined opposition to all pernicious legislation at Albany. But perhaps the greatest good has come from its ability to furnish suitable accommodation to Employers' Associations, and thus effectively aid in their being organized, and their continuance better assured.

I cannot close without a just tribute to the efficiency and well directed efforts of our dear good friend, Mr. Sayward who is aptly called the "Father of the idea of co-operation in the trades." For over fifteen years, regardless of his own condition, and at the entire sacrifice of his own business, he has industriously labored to bring the building trades to a higher conception of their importance and standing as a commercial body; to correct existing abuses in the trade, but above all to instill into them, the need of thorough organization to fully accomplish these purposes; beginning first with the Exchange in his own city, then the National Association, both of which he has served as Secretary from their organization, besides filling many other positions of trust and responsibility, but with too little profit. Let us hope that he may be long spared to enjoy the rich fruit of his assiduous labors for his fellow-men.

In conclusion, let us remember, as we enter into the second decade of life of this organization, that we have resting upon us a great obligation, that of increasing by every means possible its efficiency, stimulating each other to renewed efforts, by proper ways to call into its membership all who are eligible and at the same time prominent and honored members of the building trades, so that when this Club utters its clarion notes in condemnation of any pernicious legislation, or expresses its approval of any proper measures or methods, it will be the voice of the entire craft that speaks. That this may be the case let us resolve that before the close of the decade we are now entering upon we shall see enrolled on our books every man who is influential, honored and worthy in the building trades of this city.

Mr. Wm. T. Ritch moved that the address just read be printed and a copy sent to each member of the Club; and, further, that the President be desired to express the thanks of the Club to Mr. Wright for his able address and his many and continued services to the Club.

Mr. Charles A. Cowen seconded the motion, which was put and carried unanimously. The President thanked Mr. Wright as requested, and the latter made an appropriate and feeling response.

At the request of the President, Mr. Wm. H. Sayward, who was unexpectedly able to be present, he being on his return journey to Boston from a recuperative trip to Virginia Springs, delivered a short but eloquent address, in the course of which he alluded to the very happy accident that obtained for him the privilege of participating in this noteworthy celebration. He could truly say that among all the incidents that had occurred in connection with his relations with the National Association of Builders, there had been none that had given him more gratification than that of the organization of this Club, which stands for all that is high and fine in the building profession in this city. There was a time when he felt that New York was the weakest link in the National Association chain; but, largely from the influence of this Club, it had become the strongest. He pointed out that the opportunity presented for continued building up was very great, and concluded in the following words: "It is only by honest work, fairly done and honestly paid for, that we can ever hope to build this profession of ours up to the point it should attain. So I say, even if it should be my last word to you, that the purpose of the builders of this country should be to make honesty and integrity in our work stand for the high aim and the glorious opportunity that is given to us. Never let it decrease; never let it decline, and we will stand where everybody will respect us and the building profession stand for one of the important features in this community, in this country and in the world."

Unlike other similar celebrations, this one of the tenth anniversary was confined to the membership of the Club. It was a family affair, an informal but hearty good time, and this feature of inclusiveness, rather than exclusiveness, contributed in a good measure to the triumph of the event, of which each participant carried away with him a substantial reminder in the form of a handsome silver match safe, beautifully chased and bearing on the one side the initials "B. T. C.," and on the other the date "April 24, 1899."

WITH SUPPLEMENTS.

THE prominent features of the stock market are speculative manipulation and uncertainty in regard to the future of money, with the probabilities pointing rather to higher than lower rates. It is noticeable that, despite the work done on the bull side and the great help afforded to the workers by the disinclination of holders to part with long stocks, prices are, in the main still below what they were two or three weeks ago,when the first setback of the year came. There is, however, nothing to attract new public buying, except, of course, in the investment issues. In the latter lines there is good wholesome buying, the stocks and bonds of the properties making the best earning statements being mostly favored, as is natural. In the past it has been usual for dullness to come upon the stock market when the activity in manufacturing and trading was most pronounced. Just now the general conditions of business, judging by the published reports, is excellent and promise to be better; therefore, if the old rule still works, this should operate against the stock market until a period is reached when outside business falls off.

ONE of the chief sensations in the financial world across the Atlantic, as on this, is the sudden rise in the price of silver. The only explanation of this rise so far offered is speculation; but this is not satisfactory. Financial journals and the financial editors of other journals have imbibed a prejudice against silver as a result of their efforts to maintain the gold standard; consequently, silver to their minds is not so much a metal or a commodity as an affair of politics, and being of the politics to which they are opposed they cannot admit that it will move under ordinary trade conditions. If we remove from our minds all thoughts of the monetary controversy, it will not appear at all strange that silver advances when everything else has advanced; it is a valuable metal for which there are many uses, commercial as well as monetary, and it will not be surprising if it advances still more. With the growth of business in the Far East its use as money will increase and large purchases by the Paris Mint, indicate that its value for the same purpose in Europe is increasing rather than diminishing. This idea has nothing whatever to do with the standard of exchange, which may remain gold, while the circulating medium of a particular country is silver. Possibly the readjustment of the finances of Spain will call for large amounts of the white metal and explain the French Mint's purchases. At any rate there is no reason in the world why silver should remain the exception to the general movement of prices. Iron, for instance, has advanced materially this year, a fact that is affording considerable satisfaction to the European ironmaster, because it is lessening the American competition, while the home demands remain quite active. Most flattering reports of the condition of the iron business for the first quarter of the year in Great Britain and on the Continent are published. The programme for railroad building in India contemplates an expenditure of Rx 24,000,000, about $14,500,000, for the years 1899-1902. Instead of Germany having sanctioned the extension of the Cape-to-Cairo railroad through German East Africa and subsidized a telegraph line, it appears that Mr. Rhodes only succeeded in arranging a basis for negotiations and the British government is more reluctant than ever to afford guarantees. Those who, unable to throw off the effects of the political conflict over the metal, look askance at the advance in silver, will take comfort from tne report of the Rand gold production for the first quarter of the year, which amounted to 1,256,058 ozs., while 937,708 ozs. were produced in the same quarter of last year, 652,899 ozs. in the corresponding quarter of 1897 and 489,148 in the same quarter of 1896. The North German Lloyd dispensed about $1,000,000 for dividends in 1898, as against about $500,000 in 1897. It is reported that an agreement has been reached between dealers and agriculturists for the re-establishment of the grain exchange at Berlin, and that the matter is in the hands of the Prussian Minister of Agriculture. Evidently, the agrarians do not find it so easy to keep grain prices always high when speculation is absent, as they once thought it was. There is to be no legislative assembly in Austro-Hungary until late in the year, instead of in the Spring; consequently the country will have a spell in which to breathe, before political discussions begin again to embitter the people and obstruct business.

OF the varying winds that blow upon the ship "Rapid Transit" and carry it hither and thither, the prevailing one of the moment comes from the East—the Third Avenue Railroad Company is said now to be anxious to build the tunnel even with a franchise limited as to duration. The blow from the Metropolitan Street Railway Company seems to have subsided into a dead calm. To the average citizen it will make very little difference which company builds, if one must build. The Metropolitan Street Railway Company could give the best system of transfers, but would have the least interest in building the Bronx section. Third Avenue Railroad interests would have an incentive to build as rapidly as possible on both sides of the city—on the West to compete hardest with their rival, the Metropolitan, and on the East to attract population to the network of street railways they are buying and building in the Bronx through the Union Railway Company. There is one thing, however, that ought to be mentioned, even though it may dampen the latest hope raised of seeing a rapid transit railroad built in the near future, and that is, that the Third Avenue Railroad Company has so recently paraded itself in company with the greatest opponents of and obstacle to rapid transit, the Manhattan Elevated Railroad Co., that their sincerity will be open to question until they put their offer into practical shape. On the other hand, it may be that these people have at last come to see, as has been recently pointed out by a railroad official, that a tunnel road means money in the pocket of whoever builds it. Rapid transit in this city has been such a matter of alternate hope and despair that settled opinions are impossible. Only this much is probable, that the advent of the Third Avenue Railroad Company as a bidder for the franchises, would bring back the Metropolitan Street Railway into the field of competition when we would be more likely to see another Kingsbridge road franchise fight, though on a larger scale, than a practical tunnel through which the resident of Washington Heights could be shot from City Hall in the happy expectation of reaching home in twenty or thirty minutes, as he should do.

TESTS made by the Fire Department at the Manhattan Life Building on Broadway prove that a high building can be as effectively protected against fire as a low one. That protection is not a question of height, but of appliances. By the connection of an engine of the Department standing in the street with the fire apparatus of the building itself, a stream of water was forced 70 feet above the top of the flagstaff, which is 370 feet above the street level, through a one-and-three-eighths-inch nozzle and also through a one-and-a-quarter-inch nozzle. The building plant, operated by its own engines (stationary), did just as well, besides showing its effectiveness in protecting the several floors. Certain remarks attributed to the Chief of the Fire Department at the close of this trial may be taken to foreshadow the principal recommendation that will emanate from the committee of the Municipal Assembly which is considering the matter of the regulations to be made to meet the danger of fire in high buildings. Those remarks were: "So far as the Department is concerned, the tests were entirely satisfactory. They justified my belief that if all of the high buildings were equipped with an efficient standpipe system, a fire like that in the Home Life Building last December would be rendered impossible. If the owners of high buildings will aid us in this matter, the Department can afford them adequate protection.

THE BOWLING GREEN SITE.

No definite progress has been made this week in the negotiations for the purchase by the Federal Government, of the proposed Bowling Green site for the new Custom House. It was reported last week the owners of fourteen of the sixteen parcels concerned have agreed on terms of sale at private contract. As regards the two parcels, owned by the Cooper estate and E. M. Brown, condemnation proceedings will apparently be necessary; in any event, condemnation proceedings will be required to extinguish the city's interest in the alleyway which enters the plot from Bridge street. Under these circumstances it is of course impossible to say when the purchase will be completed, as the Government will sign no contracts until it is assured of the entire block. On the other hand, the owners have good reason to facilitate a consummation of the sale before the confirmation of the tax rate in July; while as regards the Government, reason for despatch exists in the fact that two years at least will be required for the constructional work on the new building, plans for which are to be adopted only after competition on the part of architects selected by the Secretary of the Treasury. The considerations agreed upon by the owners of all but two of the parcels included in the proposed site represent an advance of 4 per cent. upon the awards made in 1892. In 1891, it will be remembered, Congress passed a bill providing for a new Custom House and Appraisers' Stores on condition that the cost of the same should not exceed $2,000,000. The Bowling Green site having been fixed upon, a board of appraisers was appointed to determine the value of the several parcels. As the awards of the board aggregated $2,101,000 the proceedings looking to the acquisition of the site were abandoned by Secretary Carlisle in 1893. Nevertheless, although the new Appraisers' Stores were subsequently erected at Washington and Christopher streets, the project of removing the Custom House to Bowling Green was kept alive by influential members of the Produce Exchange as well as, it is said, the owners of certain big office buildings on and near the Bowling Green. This project was originally suggested in 1888 by William J. Fryer, then Superintendent of Repairs of U. S. public buildings at New York, as part of a larger plan to bring the Custom House, the Appraisers' Stores, the Sub-Treasury, and the Assay Office buildings together on the three blocks bounded by Bowling Green row, State and Whitehall streets. Following are the awards of 1892 for the several parcels included in the site as now contemplated, with the names of the present owners:

REAL ESTATE AND TAXATION.

The memorial on taxation, prepared by the Board of Brokers, in conjunction with the other interested organizations, was forwarded to Albany on Monday. The memorial asks the Governor to recommend to the Legislature that the powers of the proposed joint committee on taxation of public franchises be enlarged so as to authorize the committee to submit a revision of the entire tax law. It was accompanied by the following letter, signed by John F. Doyle:

As President of the Real Estate Board of Brokers, I beg to enclose herewith a memorial, which was intended to be presented to you prior to the time that you called for a joint committee of the Legislature to revise the tax laws of the State. The Real Estate Board of Brokers and kindred organizations, who united in this memorial, would, of course, have been better pleased to have had a committee of experts, but since your message to the Legislature, calling for a joint committee for the revision of the tax law, we did nothing in the matter as we did not wish to hamper you in any way. The only object in sending this paper to you now is that, when the joint committee is appointed, as you will note by the resolution attached, we should like to have the committee hold open sessions, and go into the question of not alone the revision of the tax laws as theyrelate to corporate franchises, but take up the whole subject of taxation throughout the State. You are, of course, fully aware of the fact that real estate for a great number of years past has borne the brunt of taxation. This year the burden is felt very keenly, and something should be done to lighten the load on real estate. If this joint committee will have open sessions and permit those interested in taxation to give their views in regard to the method of levying taxes and what property should be properly taxed, there is no doubt but that the committee will be able to report to the next Legislature a bill which will be just and equitable to all alike, including real estate, individuals and corporations. In fact, the people want to be heard on this subject, and if you will be so good as to see to it that, when the committee has become a legal body, their sessions shall be open, we believe that the subject of taxation will be thoroughly gone into. Of course, as you know, real estate men take great interest in the matter, for the reason that we desire to see the city grow, not alone in population, but in public improvements. You know the need of rapid transit; you know the possibility and probability of greater consumption of water in such a vast city (Brooklyn is already clamoring for it), and you know also of the many neglected improvements in New York City, which must lie dormant until taxation equalizes itself.

Bind your copies of the "Record and Guide." They are invaluable for search and reference. We will either bind your copies in half-sheep for $1.75 a volume, or in half-morocco for $2.00 a volume, or supply you with handy binders, which you can use yourself, for $1.00, postage nineteen cents. "WOODBURY" AND "ELMSCOURT," Northwest corner Madison Ave. and 95th Street.

E. W. Kilpatrick,
Owner and Builder.

A NEW DEPARTURE IN APARTMENT HOUSES.

Building trade circles are very much interested in two buildings, "Woodbury" and "Elmscourt," just completed, and being let to tenants, on the northwest corner of Madison avenue and 95th street, inasmuch as they represent a new departure in the building of apartment houses upon a large plot.

The builder is E. W. Kilpatrick, who has been identified with building interests all his life, being the son of the late Edward Kilpatrick, who, until his death a comparatively short while ago, was one of the best builders in the city, and known as much for his kindliness of disposition, his work in the fields of charity, and for public spirit, as for honesty, integrity and uprightness in his everyday business. The traditions attaching to his name are being honorably preserved and continued by his son.

As may be readily understood, E. W. Kilpatrick has the best of practical experience to guide him; it is, therefore, especially noteworthy that in undertaking the operation on Madison avenue and 95th street, he departed from the regular custom and inaugurated a system of building for which the best of results may be predicted.

Apartment house building on corners is comparatively easy, but when it comes to inside lots, the difficulty has always been to provide sufficient light and air. Mr. Kilpatrick solved this problem in a very simple way. Having a plot 100x100.8½, he, instead of building up solidly on the two fronts, has erected one building, 40x90, on the corner, and one, 45x90, on the avenue, leaving an open court 15.8½ between, and the usual ten feet at the rear, and thus secured to everyone of the apartments in each of his buildings direct light and air on every side. This plan, of course, makes the original expense for land heavy, but it will undoubtedly promptly pay for itself in the better rents that can be obtained for light, healthy apartments, than for those whose inner rooms depend for their light and air on the doubtful agency of closed air shafts. It is the latter class of apartments that, while rentable when bright and new, are the hardest to let as soon as the gloss of newness is gone off them, and, of course, have to meet public indifference by concessions in rents. These direct light and air apartments, on the other hand, need never suffer from this disability, the court being established in perpetuity by the deed.

While stress is laid upon this unique feature of separation, it must not be understood that any other essential of a first-class apartment house has been omitted. The illustration herewith shows the building to be of stately proportions and architecturally attractive. The materials of the front are Indiana limestone and buff brick. The interior plan, arrangements and decorations have been carefully thought out with results as commendable as might have been expected from the good school in which the builder was educated. The handsome main halls are paved with mosaic tiles, and wainscoted with marble, and contain office with telephone room, and a rapid running elevator. Each house contains six stories, with two apartments on each story, the ground floor apartments having 7 rooms, butler's pantry, and bath, and each of those in the upper stories, 8 rooms, butler's pantry, and bath. In the basement there are janitor's quarters, store and bicycle rooms, and an extensive plant for furnishing power, electric light, steam drying and heat, and hot water at all hours and in all seasons. Regarding the apartments themselves, they are unusually spacious and excellently planned. They are self-enclosed, having a door opening from the main hall into a private hall, from which the several rooms are reached. They include parlor, dining-room, library, kitchen, servants' room, butler's pantry, bathroom, and two or three large bedroms, according to whether they are ground or upper floor apartments. The trim is generally quartered oak for the halls, and plain oak or red birch for parlors, etc. The living-rooms are furnished with tiled fireplaces, gas stoves, mantels to match trim, and gas and electric light chandeliers. The bedrooms are large, light and airy, to an extent rarely expected in an apartment house, and have wardrobes, gas and electric light fixtures, etc. Throughout both buildings the apartments are decorated with a variety and taste delightful to the eye. Trim and fittings are made from original designs, and the workmanship nowhere leaves anything to be desired.

Space only permits a somewhat bald description of the attractions of these apartments, which does not do justice to the care and attention that has been bestowed on everything down to the minutest detail, such as closets, wherever they could be placed, gas stoves, the porcelain sinks and washtubs in the kitchen; the steam radiators; the tiled and paneled bathrooms, with porcelain tubs and shower, etc.; stained glass in nooks, and cunning windows that add to the brightness of the rooms; the novelty and taste of the wall papers, and the superiority of the workmanship everywhere. Though it is necessary to generalize this description somewhat, it must not be overlooked that the plumbing is not only the latest and best as regards materials and supplies, but has been put in under the supervision of an expert sanitary engineer in order to secure perfect results.

The location is one of the best in the city for salubrity and surroundings. It is on the brow of a hill, one of the highest points on Manhattan Island, and overlooks a magnificent stretch of country, embracing in its range the Hudson, the Sound and Central Park. It is the section that has recently felt the effects of the Carnegie purchase on 5th avenue, and which has been the scene, recently, of the best form of domestic development, and whose character is thereby fixed as a part of the aristocratic quarter. It is near one of the Park entrances, and, therefore, has access to the beautiful system of drives that stretch westward to the river side, as well as to the museums and other places of public interest. The cable cars on the avenue afford traveling facilities to every other part of the city, which are supplemented by the L and cable roads on 3d avenue.

Already nine of the twenty-four apartments in the two buildings have been let, and frequent inspections by home-seekers now insure the disposal of the others before the first of May. Lately a good many architects and builders have visited these houses, and the consensus of expert opinion expressed as a consequence is highly favorable to them as works of design and construction, and to the probable results from the investment point of view.

The owner is prepared to meet either tenants or visitors looking to an investment, on the buildings daily from 10 to 5 o'clock; or they may see the agents, Messrs. Duff & Conger, No. 1474 3d avenue.

OUR ALBANY LETTER.

Albany, April 27.—The Legislature passed this week the Rapid Transit bill with amendments limiting the franchise to fifty years, with a privilege of renewal for twenty-five years. They also have passed the constitutional amendments separating the debts of counties included in the city of New York by the act of consolidation of 1897 from the city debt. This may enable the city itself to build the tunnel railroad.

The Senate passed the following bills this week:

Senator Ford's (Intro. No. 982) to extend and regulate the liability of employers to make compensation for personal injuries suffered by employees in their service through defects in ways, works and machinery, also by reason of negligence of other employees.

Senator Marshall's (Intro. No. 1007) providing that liens in Brooklyn shall be filed in the office of the register of Kings County; in Queens, in the office of the Clerk of Queens County; in Richmond, in the office of the Clerk of Richmond County; and in the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx, in the office of the register of the city and county of New York. This bill also passed the Assembly.

Senator Grady's (Intro. No. 83) imposing the duty upon lot owners in the city of New York to construct and maintain the sidewalk in front of their premises in a safe condition for public travel, and, in the event of their failure, permitting the city to do so, and to charge the cost thereof as a lien against the lot, and also creating a liability on the part of such lot owner over to the city for any damages recovered by a person sustaining injury by reason of such failure, and making the judgment recovered against the city conclusive evidence against such owner.

Assemblyman Phillips's (Intro. No. 1467) laying out a park between 27th and 28th streets, 9th and 10th avenues.

Senator Donnelly's (Intro. No. 989) allowing correction to be made of personal taxes where entered in the books of the wrong borough. Notice of new assessment is to be made by mail.

Senator Mitchell's (Intro. No. 559) making the whole cost of opening a public place at 161st and 162d streets, Courtlandt avenue and Harlem R. R., a charge upon the city at large.

Assemblyman Bedell's (Intro. No. 507) regarding the title of purchasers or incumbrancers of real property sold to guardians in socage under judgments in actions for the partition of such property.

Assemblyman Davis's (Intro. No. 1517) to amend section eight hundred and twelve of the code of civil procedure relative to bonds and undertakings.

Special Committee's bill (Intro. No. 1316), relating to the appointment of special guardians.

Senator Marshall's (Intro. No. 138) amending the Tunnel act to permit the Municipal Assembly to grant franchises for tunnels for fifty years with a renewal of twenty-five years and a payment of 3% of net profits to the city.

The Assembly passed the following bills this week:

Assemblyman Fallows's (Intro. No. 1185) amending the labor law by requiring that in a building in course of construction the iron work shall not be set up more than three tiers ahead of the flooring or filling in.

Assemblyman Roche's (Intro. No. 1511) authorizing the construction of a recreation pier at the foot of Market street.

Senator Mitchell's (Intro. No. 821) declaring that: "the board of assessors of the city of New York is hereby authorized to assess upon such portions of the property abutting upon Lind avenue from Wolf street to Aqueduct avenue in the borough of the Bronx, for the cost and expense of regulating, grading and otherwise improving said portion of said Lind avenue, such amounts, in the manner and to the extent authorized by law, as they may deem such property to be benefited thereby, but said board shall not assess any portion of such cost and expense upon any of said abutting property which they may deem not to be benefited by reason of such work."

Senator Mitchell's (Intro. No. 985) requiring evidence of damage to property by the depression of railroad tracks in the 23d and 24th wards to be submitted by July 1, 1900.

Shortly before the adjournment of both branches of the Legislature, yesterday, the Assembly passed the Ford bill, defining public franchies, for the purpose of taxation, as "intangible real estate." The bill had previously passed the Senate. As the bill was passed in response to a message of the Governor, it follows that he will sign it.

WHAT THE "EVENING POST" SAYS.

ANOTHER UNQUALIFIED ENDORSEMENT OF FIREPROOF WOOD TREATED BY THE ELECTRIC FIREPROOFING PROCESS.

Speaking of "Insurance Questions," the Evening Post of this city, in its issue of Tuesday last, drew the attention of its readers to the merits of fireproof wood. The article is of so much value and interest that we reproduce it below:

"Prof. Thomas B. Stillman, of Stevens' Institute, who has long been interested in testing the resisting qualities of fireproof wood, made several experiments at his laboratory in Hoboken the other day, which will be of peculiar interest to insurance men. There are more than forty different processes for fireproofing wood, but Prof. Stillman used only samples which had been treated after the manner prescribed by the experts in charge of such work in the construction of battleships for the United States government. The first test was made with a piece of North Carolina pine, twelve inches long and four inches wide. This was placed over a powerful four-ringed blast lamp emitting a solid blue flame two and a-half inches in diameter and eight inches high. The wood became charred, but did not ignite. The test was continued several minutes, the block being turned so as to receive on different sides the full force of the flames. It stood the ordeal well, and except for a few cracks on the surface was apparently unaffected by the heat. A short strip of wood (with eight surfaces exposed), used for protecting electric light wires, was then thrust into the fire. The wood was scarcely an inch thick, but it resisted the flames successfully, becoming charred, but not igniting. A piece of ash, of the sort used for decorative purposes, was put over the lamp. The heat was intense, but it made little impression upon the wood. A thick block, which had been scorched before, was then held in the flames altogether nearly half an hour. It finally curled over, cracked, and smoked, but at no time caught fire.

"The most interesting experiment was reserved till the last. Prof. Stillman had shavings cut from the wood, placing all in a receptacle, soaking the contents with alcohol. On being lighted the flames shot a foot or two in the air, but the shavings, scarcely thicker than paper, were not consumed. Two pieces of wood, one of which had not been rendered fireproof, were then laid side by side over the flame. The ordinary block blazed up immediately; the other smoked, but did not burn. Several sorts of wood of varying thicknesses were used in making the tests, with nearly the same result in all cases. Prof. Stillman considered the tests thoroughly satisfactory, demonstrating beyond question that wood, when properly treated, could be made fireproof. He declared that the Windsor Hotel fire and the disasters at the Adams and Andrews residences in this city could have been prevented if non-combustible wood had been used in the construction of the buildings. The question had received much attention among experts in England, where the new addition to the British Museum, the Bedford Grammar School, and the Queen's yacht, in course of construction, will have all the woodwork constructed of fireproof wood. Mahogany, spruce, chestnut, oak, red oak, birch, poplar, ash, pine, yellow pine, and whitewood can be made non-combustible, it is said, by this method.

"Prof. Stillman, in speaking of his experiments, said: 'I know that wood can be made fireproof, and that, too, without depriving it of its strength or finishing properties. I have used several different kinds of wood in making these tests, and all with practically the same result. The objection often urged against wood treated by the fireproofing process, that it is not as serviceable as ordinary wood, is not, I think, well taken. While wood has undoubtedly been injured by some methods, I think the obstacles have now been overcome, and hope to see the great hotels and office structures of the future made really secure by the use of fireproof wood for window frames, doors, trimmings, etc. I think myself that our laws should be amended to bring about such a result.'

"The horrors of the recent disasters in this city have attracted the attention of experts in Paris, where M. Bouvard, superintending architect of the exposition, and M. Blanc, Prefect of Police, have been considering more stringent requirements in regard to the construction of hotels, buildings and dwellings in Paris. M. Bunel, chief architect of the prefecture of Paris police, said recently concerning the disasters in this city: 'The Andrews fire comes to us as still another imperative object lesson that all wood used for furniture, as well as for flooring or other building purposes, must be subjected to some one of the numerous inexpensive chemical processes for making it inflammable. The great object we are now striving after here is to gain time between the first ignition and the moment of the bursting forth of suffocating flames. We are convinced, and express the opinion of the Paris investigations and experiments, that this can only be accomplished by preventing builders from using wood not previously subjected to a chemical process to render it uninflammable, and thereby transform its instantaneous inflammability into comparative slow combustion, thus giving time for the fire deparment to save lives and prevent disasters. No fire department in the world, no matter how efficient, could be depended upon to accomplish this in cases of such terrific rapidity as characterized the Andrews and Windsor Hotel fires.' "

The Evening Post is a conservative journal, and for obvious reasons does not mention by name the ONE particular process of fireproofing to which it is perfectly clear Professor Stillman was referring, but it was stated as being the process adopted for the construction of battleships for the United States Government, which is the Electric Fireproofing Process.

Without this information appended to the Post's article, the public, that knows nothing of the facts, might be led astray. Attempts to fireproof wood are fifty years old. The results of them were of no practical value until the problem of rendering wood permanently non-flammable was solved by the Electric Fireproofing Co. of this city. It is the system of this company that Professor Stillman speaks of, and it is this company's process that has been adopted by the United States, the British and other governments. It is one of the most valuable discoveries of the age, and is interesting not only men of science, and the great naval powers, but also architects, builders and others in this country and abroad. A striking example of the artistic effectiveness of wood treated by this process, is the big Dun office-building recently completed for Mr. R. G. Dun, of the Mercantile Agency.

The brokerage branch of the real estate market this week, though chiefly of the commonplace prosperous kind, produced some noteworthy items. Besides the usual complement of dwellings, a variety of property changed hands, chiefly speculative, from vacant lots in the uptown residential section to antiquated downtown business buildings. Several of the transactions fall in the six-figure class. Riverside drive and the Boulevard figure prominently in the budget. Of mercantile properties, the 7-story buildings at Nos 40 and 42 New street, and the old Delmonico Building, at 5th avenue, Broadway and 26th street, were the most important. The biggest transaction in vacant land was that affecting some forty lots on 74th and 75th streets, east of Avenue A. It is significant of the rise in land values on Manhattan Island that the St. Joseph's Home for Infant Girls has joined in the northward march of colleges and charitable institutions. The plot of land, containing about twenty city lots, now occupied by the home on the east side of Madison avenue, between 81st and 82d streets, was this week put upon the market at $750,000, or about $35,000 per lot. The demand in this locality for private residences determined the trustees to take this action and to build a new home in the upper part of the city, where land is less costly. Plans have already been filed for a convent for the use of the Sisters of Mercy, who have charge of the home, on the north side of 152d street, 300 feet east of Broadway. Six private residences, estimated to cost more than one-quarter of a million of dollars, are now in process of construction by McCafferty & Buckley on the southwest corner of Madison avenue and 82d street, opposite the existing St. Joseph's Home.

The total number of transactions reported below is 87; with considerations given in 17 and amounting to $1,382,000. Corresponding figures for last week were 82, 18 and $1,517,500 respectively.

A long list of offerings, comprising a variety of real estate, from downtown office buildings to suburban lots, served to bring out in bold relief the strength as well as the weakness of the auction market. There was no appreciable speculative buying on the part of the public, although some of the unimproved parcels at Bedford Park, sold by Charles A. Berrian, were purchased by laymen from the Bronx. The attention of professional operators was confined chiefly to vacant land in localities where building is active, and to antiquated properties which permit of immediately profitable improvement. Some investment buying there was, it is true, but not in sufficient volume to be dignified as a movement. About half the improved parcels offered at voluntary auction were bid in or withdrawn. This large proportion of unsuccessful sales, however, was evidently due in part to the extravagant expectations of some owners, the people who, seeing a rising market, demand prospective rather than present values; in part to a failure to observe that the demand for realty is not general, but limited to certain kinds of property, and to property located in certain localities. There was not the slightest indication of a diminution in the salability of those lines of realty for which the market has been good during the past quarter, and in which the volume of business has been just once again as large as it was during the corresponding period last year. That the remainder of the Huntington tract, 91 lots, scheduled for sale by Peter F. Meyer, would be disposed of was the general expectation, and no little surprise was created when the auction was stopped after forty-nine lots had been knocked down, of which, it was later found, only twenty-six were sold. Henry Morgenthau, the principal owner, accounted for the issue of the sale by saying that the building movement in the Bronx was concentrating on the line of 3d avenue, and that for this reason builders and building loan operators did not enter into effective competition. The explanation current in the auction room, however, was that the bidders soon discovered there was no intention to let the property go at prices which would leave a margin of profit for middlemen. As a matter of fact, the prices obtained were higher than those accepted in April last year. W. C. Oesting last year gave $3,000 each for four lots in 141st street, adjoining the corner of St. Ann's avenue, while at the present sale he paid $3,250 each for four lots further from the corner. On 139th street a lot that sold this week for $3,350 lies next to one which sold last year for $2,575. Any adverse impression, however, which the withdrawal of the Huntington tract might have produced on the lot market was dispelled the following day by the conspicuously successful sale of 50 unimproved parcels at Bedford Park by Charles A. Berrian. Although several owners, each independent of the other, were concerned in the auction, the lots with so few exceptions as to be of no importance, were disposed of, some to well-known operators, but the majority, perhaps, to local buyers. In improved property, an eminently satisfactory sale was that by Richard V. Harnett, in partition of the John Bisco Estate, consisting of East Side flats and tenements. The principal offerings at foreclosure were the Hotel Gerlach, Nos. 49 to 55 West 27th street, S. de Walltearss auctioneer; and the Morse Building, on the northeast corner of Nassau and Ann streets, Geo. R. Read auctioneer. Both properties were bought for the plaintiffs at considerably less than the incumbrances, in the case of the Morse Building a second mortgage of $100,000 being wiped out. The Gerlach, it will be remembered, was sold in December to satisfy second mortgage bonds amounting to $165,000, representatives of which bought the property at $464,428, and organized a new corporation, the Apartment Hotel Co., to carry on the hotel. The foreclosure this week was of a first mortgage held by the Peabody Education Fund, and, with unpaid interest, amounted to $413,905, besides which there were additional charges of $3,111 for unpaid taxes, and a second mortgage. The property sold for $400,000 without competition. As regards coming sales a notable feature is the large number of vacant lot auctions that have been announced for May. Three important sales of this description, two by James L. Wells, are scheduled for next week, while others are advertised for subsequent dates. One that has not yet been advertised is the partition sale of 275 lots on University Heights, extending from Macombs Dam road to the Harlem River, which William M. Ryan will hold for the Cammann Estate some time during the first week in June. This event will affect probably the most interesting section in the Bronx, viewed from a social or architectural standpoint. The property lies in the immediate neighborhood of the New York University, and adjoins a colony of handsome private residences, besides the Fordham Club, and schools and churches. The book-map will be a handsome piece of advertising, inasmuch as it will contain about thirty-five views from the property out over the Palisades, the Hudson, Harlem and East Rivers, as well as reproductions of the architectural monuments on the Heights.

Richard V. Harnett & Co. have for Wednesday, 10th prox., an important sale of lots and dwellings located on Hackensack Plank road, Pleasant avenue, and the Boulevard, Weehawken Heights, New Jersey. This property is especially suited to residences and cottages, as it commands superb water and land views. A trolley line runs direct to the New York ferries, the journey to 14th street occupying ten, and to other points correspondingly short periods of time. The terms include 70% on bond and mortgage at 5%. The sale will take place at No. 111 Broadway. Wednesday next, 3d prox., the same auctioneers will sell a plot of 5 lots on the southeast corner of 63d street and 11th avenue, and another plot of 4 lots on the northwest corner of 159th street and Amsterdam avenue; and on Thursday next, 4th prox., the Sailor's Snug Harbor leasehold, No. 17 5th avenue. The formal announcements of these sales will be found in our business pages, and the auctioneers will supply all further information required, and maps, at their offices, Nos. 71 and 73 Liberty street.

Peter F. Meyer will conduct the auction sale of the New York Juvenile Asylum lots on Kingsbridge road, Wadsworth and 11th avenues, which is scheduled for Thursday, 11th prox. There are 80 of these lots. Titles will be guaranteed by Lawyers' Title Insurance Co., and 70% of purchase money may remain on bond and mortgage for 1, 2 or 3 years at 4½ per cent. The same auctioneer will, on Thursday next, 4th prox., offer for sale the block owned by the city, and bounded by West, Duane, Washington and Reade streets. For further information regarding these properties readers are referred to our business pages, and to the auctioneer, who will supply maps, etc., at his office, No. 111 Broadway.

Attention is again called to the important sale of Bronx parcels, which will be conducted by James L. Wells, Thursday next, 4th prox., by order of the executors of the estate of Josephine L. Peyton, deceased. The book-maps of this sale contain 132 parcels of improved and unimproved properties, located on 3d, Bathgate, Webster, Brook, Gerard, Jerome, Walton, Creston and Marion avenues, and on connecting important streets and roads. The terms are liberal, and the sale is to be absolute. The particulars given on another page should have careful attention from would-be realty investors. Book-maps can be obtained from the auctioneer at No. 141 Broadway.

Bryan L. Kennelly announces the auction sale for Wednesday next, 3d prox., of a number of building lots on Avenue A, East 75th and 76th streets and West 64th street, and, also, the large business parcel on the northwest corner of Greenwich street and 7th avenue. Details will be found in the auctioneer's announcement on another page, and additional particulars and maps can be had at his office, No. 66 Liberty stret.

William M. Ryan has been selected to conduct the important auction sale of the fine mansion in Gramercy Park, built by the late Samuel J. Tilden for his own occupation, the interesting particulars of which will be found in our business pages. The Players' Club adjoins the premises on the east. The sale will take place on Wednesday, 10th prox., and the auctioneer will supply all information desired at his office in the Singer Building, on the northwest corner of Broadway and Liberty street.

Jere. Johnson, Jr., Co., will conduct the executors' sale to close the estate of John T. Martin, consisting of well-located lots in different parts of Brooklyn, and a stable on Columbia Heights, of which descriptions are given in our business pages. The sale will take place on Tuesday, 9th prox., at No. 189 Montague street. At the same place, on Tuesday next, 2d prox., the same auctioneers will dispose of 77 lots in the 8th Ward of Brooklyn, an event which is also announced in our advertising pages. The auctioneers will supply maps, etc., at either No. 189 Montague street, Brooklyn, or No. 169 Broadway, New York City.

In these times of expanding business the announcement made by E. A. Cruikshank & Co., in our business pages of East River front lots to lease, will surely interest many. These lots are located below 125th street, and are suitable for either building material, coal or stone business. Rents are reasonable. E. A. Cruikshank & Co.'s offices are in the Washington Life Building, No. 141 Broadway.

Capable man, with 10 years' experience in City Real Estate, and a practical builder, will arrange with responsible party or firm to manage property (thorough knowledge of repairs, rentals, collections, buying and selling). Address, GILT-EDGED REFERENCES, care Record and Guide.

The week in Brooklyn realty has been a good one, with private sales and renting as the chief features for the average broker. The latter branch of the real estate business has already reached its height, next Monday being the first of May, the day on which most house seekers are settled. The prices realized at private sales have been uniformly good, though no property is valued at what it was a few years ago. All sections of Brooklyn have felt the readjustment of values, but the tendency now is toward an advance rather than any further decrease.

The few transactions in outlying properties have been confined to the less valuable sections, the more available tracts having already passed out of the possession of the original holders. The S. B. Lott property on Gerritson's Creek sold during the week to a local operator, contains about 60 acres, for which the purchaser paid $1,350 per acre. The holdings of S. L. Clapp, which adjoin this Lott piece, have also changed hands during the week, the purchaser being a Manhattan syndicate. This tract consists of about 37 acres. The price paid for this property was $1,000 per acre. Through the same firm the farm of S. H. Gainsborg, formerly the Wm. H. Bennett tract, has been sold to Mirabeau L. Tonns, of Brooklyn, for $2,650 per acre. This property consists of 32 613-1000 acres situated in the 31st Ward (Gravesend). The Wm. G. Gilmore tract, consisting of 32½ acres on the southeast corner of King's Highway, has been sold to Milton Yale, of Cortland, N. Y., for an average price of $2,200 per acre. Fifty acres in the 32d Ward, adjoining the land of the Vanderveer Park, have been purchased for $2,000 per acre. The brokers who made these sales were McNulty and Fitzgerald.

112 acres at Barren Island have been leased to P. Mute & Sons for a period of 5 years beginning May 1, 1899. The rental will be $450 per year.

REAL ESTATE NOTES.

It is reported from Albany that the State tax rate will be about 2.70.

The Mayor will give a hearing on the Rapid Transit bill next Wednesday.

Sol. Stern, of B. M. Strauss & Co., was married on Thursday last, and is now on an extended wedding tour.

Potter & Brother have removed their offices from No. 128 Broadway, to the Niagara Building, to Nos. 135 and 137 Broadway.

John P. Kerwan has removed his branch office from No. 60 Cedar st to the German-American Building, No. 35 Nassau st, room 416.

William M. Ryan removes to-day from No. 111 Broadway to a handsome suite of offices on the ground floor of the Singer Building, at the northwest corner of Broadway and Liberty street.

The clerks in a well-known real estate office in Liberty street have been presented by their employer with douceurs ranging from $25 to $75, the gifts being accompanied by a statement to the effect that the season has been a prosperous one with the house, and that part of the prosperity was due to the co-operation of the office staff.

The following gentlemen have been elected officers of the new Brocklyn Development Co., which this week took title to about $1,000,000 worth of farm land in that borough: William E. Harmon, president; Arthur Lyman, vice-president; John H. Storer, treasurer; and Robert T. Paine, Jr., secretary. The company nave opened offices at No. 154 Montague street.

Charles Buek is the buyer of the lots on 49th street, north side, 125 feet east of Madison avenue, 150x100. This purchase gives Mr. Buek nine lots on 49th, and three lots on 50th street, all of which will be improved with high-class dwellings.

Mayor Van Wyck's remarks on Friday at the hearing on the bill to establish a small park at Roosevelt, Cherry, South and New Chambers streets shows what will be the fate of all parks in this city laid out by the Legislature. The Mayor said: "Why do you go to the Legislature for a park. Haven't the city authorities selected by the people power to open parks? A city can't be governed by auxiliary commissions. If you undertake that and go to the Legislature every time you want anything we might as well burn the city charter. The legally constituted authorities, chosen by the people, can govern the city without help from the Legislature." As the Legislature has now adjourned, and the Mayor has ten days on which to act on a city bill, his veto will kill.

The Municipal Street Railway Company, said to be a child of the Metropolitan Street Ry. Co., has applied to the Municipal Council for a franchise to construct a surface railroad in the northern part of the city. Accompanying the petition was a resolution providing that a public hearing be held in the chamber of the Board of Aldermen at 11 o'clock in the morning of Monday, June 5, next. The route for the road, as explained in the petition, is as follows: Beginning at the intersection of 8th avenue and 124th street, on 124th street, to Manhattan avenue, to St. Nicholas avenue, to King's Bridge road, to the Harlem Canal, along the canal, across the proposed bridge over Spuyten Duyvil Creek, to West 230th street, to King's Bridge road, to Riverdale avenue, to the city line. A branch line is projected as follows: From 124th street and 8th avenue, along 124th street to St. Nicholas avenue, to 8th avenue, to 145th street, and ending at St. Nicholas avenue.

The Sinking Fund Commissioners, on Thursday, renewed the city's lease of part of the Stewart Building, at Broadway and Chambers st, the rental being $95,500 a year. The resolution by which the Corporation Counsel was instructed to execute a lease of the old house of the New York Athletic Club was amended so as to make provision for quarters for the Health Department, the Municipal Art Commission, and the officials of the Law Department assigned to the Health Department. It was also decided to reduce the upset prices on unsold city leases 20 per cent., because of a lack of bidders at Thursday's auction, when only five of the nineteen leases put up by Peter F. Meyer at the Controller's office were sold. There was a large crowd present at the sale, but many refrained from bidding because of the fact that sureties were required for the performance of the contracts, which were for terms of five years. The lease of 112 acres of land on Barren Island was sold to P. White & Son, at $450 a year, the upset price. Leases for cellars in Centre Market building were sold at rentals varying from $100 to $300. The leases which remained unsold will be disposed of on May 10th.

CONCERNING REAL ESTATE AGENTS AND BROKERS.

P. S. Treacy's long established headquarters for the sale, rental and management of west side real estate at No. 101 Boulevard, near 65th street, is now known as No. 1929 Broadway. This change is not caused by removal but is due to the recent change of name of the Boulevard to Broadway. Mr. Treacy's office was about the first established of the real estate offices now located west of Central Park, and the business transacted by it has increased to the present large volume because of the careful and successful manner in which Mr. Treacy looks after its many details. His telephone call is 441 Columbus.

The firm of Tuoti & Co., real estate brokers, whose specialty is the sale and rental of real estate in the Italian districts of this city, have moved their offices to the sixth floor of the World building, where they have fitted up an attractive suite of rooms. This step was necessitated by the large increase of their business, the demand for more office space on that account being imperative.

H. L. Phelps, who for several years has made a specialty of Bronx Borough realty, will remove his office on May 1 from No. 216 Willis avenue to No. 168 Willis avenue, near 135th street, where he will have better facilities to transact an ever-increasing business.

James E. Callan, broker, of No. 4218 3d avenue, has removed his office to No. 807 East 177th street, one block east of 3d avenue. Mr. Callan has many desirable parcels for sale.

Hebberd & Schultz succeed the realty firm of S. E. Hebberd & Son, which was established in 1867. The offices of the new firm are centrally and conveniently located at No. 200 West 43d street, southwest corner of Broadway. Careful and prompt attention to the sale and management of real estate and the placing of mortgage loans is a feature of the policy carried out by Hebberd & Schultz. Their telephone call is 3612 38th.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICK.—The arrivals of Hudson Rivers this week were about the same as last. They were quickly taken at $5.75@6.00; special cargoes bringing $6.25.

LIME.—Although the demand for Rockland is very good, there is little on the way, and almost none at hand; 80@85c. per bbl. is asked for common, and 90@95c. for finishing.

CEMENT.—Prices continue firm at the figures quoted last week. The supply at hand is small. Rosendale is 80@95c., and Portland, $2.00@2.10.

LATH.—The arrivals this week have been small, hardly 4,000,000. Very few mills are cutting, and pine lath is being used to meet the demand. Spruce slab sell at $2.50.

LUMBER.—The market is no easier, and the supply of hardwoods is fast disappearing. In spite of the recent advance in North Carolina pine, that lumber is selling at a low price considering other values.

NAILS.—The demand is very brisk, and dealers could market a much larger supply at present prices. Exports have been somewhat limited, owing to home demand. Cut nails are $1.75 for carload lots, jobbers, f. o. b. mill, Pittsburg base; less than carload lots, $1.80; to others than jobbers, $1.80 and $1.95; small lots from store, $2.10. Cut nails continue at $2.20 for car lots, f. o. b. mill, Pittsburg base, $2.35 on dock New York, and $2.60 for small lots out of store.

GLASS.—On Monday last the jobbers fixed the discount for American window glass at 80, 20 and 5%. The factories, which have been having trouble with their employees, have come to satisfactory agreements. Three or four, however, will not resume work this fire, which ends the first of June. This fact, coupled with the shortness of this season's fire, will have a tendency to strengthen prices. French is 80 and 10%. Polished plate remains 80%.

NAVAL STORES.—Since our last report the price of turpentine has risen, contrary to general expectation. Southerns are 44½c., and machine-made barrels 45c. Stocks are very light, while a break is certain in the next week or so, the prospect is that summer prices will rule the highest for years. Tar and pitch are unchanged from last report.

COAL TAR PRODUCTS.—Tar is quoted at $4.50@5.00 per bbl. of 50 gallons; pitch, $2.24@2.50 per cement bbl.; tarred roofing felt, $35.00@40.00 per ton. These prices are f. o. b. New York, to dealers only.

OIL.—City brands of Linseed are 49c. for 5-bbl. lots or more, and 50c. for smaller quantities, with the usual advance of 2c. per gallon for boiled. Western brands are 48c. Calcutta is 58c.

LEAD.—The demand is good for all varieties. The prices quoted by the National Lead Co. are unchanged.

PAINTS.—Prices remain firm and trade is brisk. The weather has been unusually favorable to business.

Seaman & Pittman, formerly of No. 3 Union Square, have removed to No. 37 West 22d street.

Barney & Chapman, now at No. 1286 Broadway, will remove May 1 to No. 44 West 34th street.

Henry H. Vought & Co., No. 159 East 54th street, will remove May 1 to southwest corner of Park avenue and 42d street.

F. T. Camp and John E. Nitchie have removed from No. 97 Cedar street to the Park Row building, 13-21 Park Row, rooms 1128-9.

The appointment of James M. Joyce as an inspector of plumbing in the Department of Buildings, Borough of Manhattan, has been cancelled.

The official opening of the State canals took place on Wednesday. Owing to the late opening of lake navigation traffic on the canals will be very light for some time.

The Board of Education has decided to appeal to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment for $8,000,000 with which to meet the demands existing for new school accommodation. It is unlikely that the Board can do anything until the new assessed valuations are confirmed, though they may anticipate this somewhat.

The offices of the Sprague Elevator Company are now in the new Exchange Court building, No. 52 Broadway, where the elevator branch of the Sprague business will be exclusively conducted. The rapid development of the electric elevator industry necessitated a removal to more commodious and convenient quarters. The executive personnel of the elevator branch of the business remains unchanged.

Meetings at the Building Trades' Club rooms: Monday, May 1, at 3.30 p. m., Marble Industry; at 7.30 p. m., Hod Hoisting Association; at 8 p. m., United Building Trades; Tuesday, May 2, at 1.30 p. m., Board of Managers of the Building Trades Club; at 7.30 p. m., Master Painters; Wednesday, May 3, at 2 p. m., Tile, Grate and Mantels Association; Thursday, May 4, at 2 p. m., Electrical Contractors' Association.

It was stated yesterday at the Bronx branch of the Building Department that that office would be closed after to-day, and all business transacted at the main office. A Record and Guide representative could obtain no confirmation of this statement at the main office, 18th street and 4th avenue; nor could he ascertain whether the main office is to be immediately removed to 55th street and 6th avenue. Later telephone request on the main office drew forth the response: "We are not moving from here."

Walter J. Klots, formerly of the firm of W. T. Klots & Bro.'s Sons, for a number of years extensively known as dealers in building materials, has formed a connection with the firm of Pfotenhauer & Nesbit, who make a specialty of high grade front and enamelled brick, with offices in the St. James building, No. 1133 Broadway. Mr. Klots's many friends will be pleased to hear of his having connected himself with so estimable and enterprising a firm, and the connection will no doubt prove to the mutual advantage of the parties concerned.

TRADE NOTES.

MOVING UP.

A. Silverson, the well-known builder and general contractor, has removed from No. 235 Henry street, to the handsome dwelling, No. 236 East 61st street, which he recently purchased. Mr. Silverson's office will be at the new house. His work during the past year has been both extensive and successful. He is now building on Attorney street and 2d avenue.

AN ACTIVE BROOKLYN FIRM.

M. Gibbons & Son, the well-known Brooklyn contractors, report a very active season. They have in hand besides other work, the following: A storage building, fireproof construction, 200x100, 4 stories high in the New York Navy Yard; a school house at Arverne, L. I., constructed of brick and stone, to cost $30,000; a high school at Hollands, L. I., the materials of which are brick and stone and which is to cost $90,000; a school at Rockaway Park, to be built of brick and stone, and cost $20,000; a gevernment hospital, Fort Slocum, N. Y., a brick and stone building which will cost $28,000; alterations on Union street, near Columbia, to the value of $7,300, besides several other small jobs throughout the city of $700 and $1,000 each.

STEEL CEILINGS AND FIRES.

Go where you will nowadays, you will find that whenever two or three persons are gathered together, the conversation will, before long, get round to fire. It has a way of staying there, too, there being no subject so interesting at present to everybody, and concerning which there is no one but has some testimony to offer. The extent of recent fires has been so great, including all species of structures, and sparing no class of individuals, that no one, however domiciled, now feels safe. At any moment it may be his turn next. The only safeguard is to take all possible precautions against the common peril, and try to profit by the example of previous calamities. Steel ceilings are the greatest safeguards against fire communicating from one room to another. These ceilings are decorative and durable, and are made by H. S. Northrop, No. 32 Cherry St.

ARTIFICIAL STONE PAVEMENTS, ETC.

Dempsey & Konopinski, of No. 1454 Amsterdam avenue, are active and successful contractors for artificial stone pavement and fireproof construction. Their contracts are numerous, and embrace orders from many prominent builders. Recent work includes Builder T. J. McGuire's new flats on Broadway at 91st stret; floors of the houses of Hook and Ladder Companies Nos. 2 and 11, and a building for the American News Co. They will gladly furnish estimates for owners, architects and builders.

CONVEYANCES.

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title, and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each Convenance, thus 2 : 482, denotes that the property is in section 2 block 482.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgager, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded. When the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, rend as 6 per cent. Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

PROJECTED BUILDINGS.

THE LAWS AFFECTING BUILDING.

There has not been any book on the market containing all the laws and regulations relating to building in New York City; yet the need of such a volume is plain enough, because a building from its foundation to its final demolition is subject not only to the building law, but to special regulations of the building department concerning passenger elevators, fire-escapes, light and ventilation and plumbing. There is also a law limiting the height of dwelling houses and another requiring temporary flooring. There are the tenement house and lodging house laws, laws relating to the extinction and prevention of fires and explosives, and the storing of combustible materials in buildings. Moreover, there are very important fire department regulations which must be observed in the installation of electrical apparatus, and there are, of course, all the regulations of the department of public works concerning Croton water rates and the use of water, the opening and refilling of trenches and restoring of street pavements; in addition to ordinances pertaining to the inspection of steam boilers. The architect, builder, building material man and real estate owner must be familiar with these laws and regulations; if he is not, he suffers. They are now all gathered together (with a directory of architects for the first time in one volume, illustrated, indexed and supplied for $2.50. Record and Guide, Publishers, 14 and 16 Vesey street.

The first name is that of the owner; ar't stands for architect; m'n for mason; c'r for carpenter, and b'r for builder.
When character of roof is not mentioned, it is to be understood that the roof is to be of tin.
